Task Force Groups To Be Named

Six task forces could be getting down to business on Andover's comprehensive plan by the end of November, the Planning Board learned this week.

Comprehensive planning consultant Ronald Curran Tuesday night presented the board with proposed members for each of the six study groups. The planners will now review Curran's ideas, adding some of their own.

And the town's boards, commissions, committees and citizens' groups will soon be asked to name representatives to the task forces. (The consultant listed positions, not names.)

Curran's suggestions for the six groups:

The Land Use group will consist of the entire planning board, and representatives from the Conservation Commission, Historical Commission, Development and Housing Commission, Housing Authority, Zoning Board of Appeals, Chamber of Commerce, and local developers and realtors.

Housing, Business and Industrial Development will be the focus of planner Paul Curley and representatives of the Conservation Commission, Development and Industrial Commission, Housing Authority, Design Advisory Group, Historical Commission, Council on Aging, Chamber of Commerce, and local realtors, industries and building contractors.

Planner Jerry Greer will serve on the Public Safety and Health Task Force, along with representatives of the Board of Health, Traffic and Safety Advisory Committee, Police and Fire departments, School committee, Community Services Committee, Community Watch Committee, and Andover Recycling, Inc.

Schools and Community Services will be studied by planner George Moran and representatives from the School Committee, Community Services, COA, Memorial Hall Library trustees, School Building Committee, Building Maintenance Advisory Committee and Andover Education Association (the teachers' union).

Margaret Bradshaw of the planning board will join the Transportation and Communications task force, along with representa-

There Are Concerns But High School Meeting Criteria

By John P. Sawyer

High School Principal Mary Athey Jennings told the school committee Tuesday night she is concerned about heating and ventilation, the level of custodial services, the reduced amount of supplies and materials and the equipment budget at the high school.

But she gave an encouraging report on the school's progress towards meeting several recommendations for improvement last given by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges Commission on Public Schools. The Association in 1981 granted a five-year accreditation to Andover High with the expectation that the high school will follow-up on recommendations given.

Jennings noted concerns that have surfaced within the last year: supplies and materials at the high school have been cut 60 percent; the equipment budget has been cut to zero; two custodians have been cut, even though floor space at the school has increased. She is not pleased with the appearance of the building; heating and ventilation problems over the past several years have caused the moving of teachers and students out of certain rooms because of cold temperatures; construction at the high school has taken time away from other projects custodians and the principal are involved with.

The high school, however, has made progress on meeting recommendations suggested by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, and Jennings has put together some goals of her own for the high school.

The Commission made 218 recommendations to Andover High, asking that eight be highlighted in a two-year progress report.

Here are the eight and what basic action has been taken by the school:

Maintain an effective communication system on a formal, planned basis with the community: A parents organization was formed, a parents orientation evening was held and a parents newsletter goes out to all AHS parents five times a year.

Involve the entire faculty in curriculum development to improve communication and enhance interdisciplinary instruction: In-service days were used to deal with this, an all-school energy week was held, and weekly head teacher meetings with the principal were scheduled.

Coordinate educational programs at the junior and senior high levels: Program advisors have helped with this. Also, meetings with the superintendent and his assistant.

Initiate follow-up studies of graduates using input from academic departments: The high school will do a 1983 survey of alumni.

Establish and maintain effective lines of communication among school and central administrators, faculty and departments: This has been accomplished through a faculty senate, head teacher meetings with the principal, student services personnel meet-

Town House Topics

Open House At Doherty Tuesday

Parents of Doherty Junior High School students will have a chance to meet their child's teachers and take a brief look at his or her courses during an Open House at the school at 7 p.m. next Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Since the school auditorium is still undergoing renovation, parents will meet in their child's homeroom, where they will pick up a schedule for the evening. Each parent will follow the student's daily schedule — in an abbreviated form, of course — moving from room to room and meeting each teacher.

School officials hope the evening will give parents a clearer understanding of how their children are spending their school days.

Flu Shot Make-up Clinic Wednesday

For townspeople who were unable to attend the public immunization clinic recently offered by the Board of Health, a make-up clinic will be held from 10 a.m. to noon on Wednesday, Nov. 3, at the Andover Senior Center, 11 Essex St.

Both pneumococcal pneumonia and influenza vaccines will be administered at the public clinic. Pre-registration is required for the pneumonia shot only — not for the flu shot.

For further information, or to pre-register, call the Public Health Nurse at 475-7858.

Selectmen Favor Bottle Bill

The Board of Selectmen have come out in favor of the bottle bill, Question Four on the state ballot.

A Yes vote will keep the new bottle return law intact; the law is to take effect in January. A No vote will strike down the law, which was passed by the state legislature last year.

Selectman Gerald Silverman moved that the selectmen support the bottle bill, and "urge townspeople to vote in favor" of the bill at the Nov. 2 election. The motion passed on a four-one vote, with William Dalton opposed.

40 Miles Of Underground Cable To Be Installed

Rollins Cablevision is about to begin laying 40 miles of underground cable, with the selectmen's approval.

The selectmen Monday night gave the cable television company permission to excavate in a number of streets to install the cable, beginning immediately. With eight crews scheduled to be put on the job, Rollins expects the underground work to be finished by Dec. 1, the selectmen indicated.

The company has told town officials that cable service will be available throughout the town next April.

The town manager recommended approval of Rollins' request, with all work to be done to the satisfaction of the Public Works director.

Walking Tour Sunday

The Andover Chapter of the Appalachian Mountain Club will sponsor a three-mile walk in the center of town which will include ten houses of historic interest as well as many highlights on the campus of Phillips Academy on Sunday, Oct. 24, at 1:30 p.m.

Included in the tour will be Locke's Tavern, America House, Stowe House, the location of an abandoned railroad and the site of an Indian raid on the homestead of George Abbot which resulted in the capture of two young members of the family. The walk is open to all, whether members of the A.M.C. or not. Join the tour at the municipal parking lot on Main Street beside the post office about 1:15 p.m. The walk will be led by Warren and Bonne Lewis.

pointed 1982 National UN Day Chairman by President Reagan.

In announcing UN Day plans for Andover, Kessler stressed the importance of the United Nations as the best means available for the resolution of global problems. sie and Daniel Farber will highlight the folk art carvings of early New England gravestones. The Farbers have carefully photographed thousands of such stones in their study of traditional carving techniques and styles. A major exhibit of these photographs is on view at the Quincy Historical Society. The Farbers have lectured throughout New England.

Professor Edward Roddy will be available to autograph copies of his newly-published book on Shawsheen Village, "Mills, Mansions and Mergers: the Life of William M. Wood." He studied numerous blueprints, photographs and research materials from the Andover Historical Society's collection. These materials will be on display Thursday evening.

Members are encouraged to bring guests.

Race Night Aids Hospitals

Area patients were the real winners at the Night at Seabrook sponsored by Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Corporation last May.

The annual event raised $4,452 for Lawrence General Hospital, Lawrence, and Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen, according to figures just compiled.

The Lawrence hospital will use its share of the proceeds to help purchase an additional cardiac monitor defibrillator for its emergency department. This equipment treats life-threatening irregular heart rhythms by delivering an electric shock to correct the irregularity. It also monitors and assesses the patient's condition and provides an electrocardiogram printout.

Bon Secours used its portion to help support the purchase of updated electronic monitoring equipment for its cardiac care unit. This recently-installed equipment upgrades and expands the range of information available to the health care team. The new system has the capacity to record four clinical parameters at once, allowing staff to simultaneously monitor the heart rate, pressure in the pulmonary arteries, the arterial blood pressure and the patient's respiration.

In the eighteenth century, it was considered bad manners to leave a nightcap where it could be seen.

Honored

Secretary of State Michael Joseph Connolly recently honored a North Andover teen for dedicated and outstanding service as a State House volunteer tour guide.

Marybeth Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Harrington, is a student at North Andover High School.

Litter Cleanup Successful

A dynamic Clean-a-thon, sponsored by local supporters of the Campaign to Save the Bottle Bill, swept through Andover last week, climaxing their effort with all-day operations behind Town Hall on Saturday. More than 40 volunteers of all ages collected more than 125 bags of litter from all over town and brought them to Town Hall for sorting out recyclables. Many had also gathered pledges as a financial contribution to the state-wide effort to keep the Bottle Bill, which will go into effect Jan. 17, 1983, if a majority of Massachusetts voters vote "Yes" on Question 4 on Election Day.

Litter was highly concentrated in certain spots. One area of the parking lot of upper Shawsheen field yielded one worker a large trash bag full in a little over five minutes. Frontage Road off Dascomb leading to I93 south was the source of about 20 bags of trash, half of it in glass bottles and aluminum cans, which were recycled. By far the largest number of beverage containers were brown glass bottles, some broken into large, jagged pieces. The remains of numerous "parties" were found in the more secluded places around town. As impressive as the collection was, there were still trouble spots that could not be reached. "We only scratched the surface, and this was in 'clean' Andover," observed one volunteer who had covered several areas.

Individuals and members of the following organizations participated in the Clean-a-thon: the Andover High School Ecology Club, sponsored by Phil Nelson, spearheaded the drive, assisted by the Phillips Academy Biology Club, sponsored by Tom Cone, the Andover League of Women Voters and Andover Recycling, Inc., Sheila Kachen and Jane Griswold, both league members, recruited several children each to clean up their own neighborhoods, while Andover Recycling members Lyn Beattie, Tina Girdwood, Cynthia Hollenbeck and Peggy Hutchins performed a variety of services from transporting workers to sorting out recyclables.

Future Bottle Bill support activities planned in Andover will include the distribution of fact sheets about beverage container legislation and on Sunday, Oct. 24, a reception at an active solar house with a speaker from the Massachusetts Audubon Society. For further information, contact Cynthia Hollenbeck, Highland Road.

More than 100 species of goldenrod grow in the United States. The plants range in size from six inches in mountainous regions to six feet in the lowlands. The thick and sticky pollen is transported principally by insects, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

To View Shattuck Buildings

By Virginia Lopez Begg

There was great excitement along River Road last year as the historic Shattuck farm buildings moved ponderously from their centuries-old site beside the Merrimack to their new location on High Plain Road.

Andover residents will have the opportunity to view the Shattuck farm buildings and the preservation efforts of their new owners, Terrance and Patricia Sullivan of Andover, on Saturday, Oct. 23. The final meeting of a four-part architectural preservation seminar, sponsored by the Andover Historical Society and the Department of Community Services, still has places open for those who are interested. Registration is available at the DCS office, Shawsheen School.

Participants will meet at the Andover Historical Society's headquarters on Main Street at 9:30 a.m. After a brief discussion of preservation efforts in Andover and plans for the future, the group will leave for the tour. The visit will be led by Marsha Rooney, director/curator of the society, and will include information drawn from "An Archeological Survey and Documentary History of the Shattuck Farm."

The public is invited to take advantage of this unique opportunity to see a part of old Andover which has been preserved for future generations.

Unlike other owls, burrowing owls live in family groups in underground holes abandoned by other animals. They do not hoot, but make a cuckoo-like sound and can imitate the buzz of a rattlesnake. In Western states they inhabit prairies, deserts, farms and dikes, Massachusetts Audubon says.

YOUR HOSTS: TONI AND JONATHAN WEBER

On Sunday October 24, we'll show you how we operate.

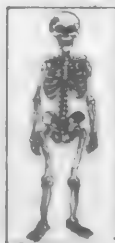

On Sunday, October 24th, between 12 noon and 4 p.m., the Harvard Community Health Plan in Medford is having an Open House. And you and your family are invited.

We'll have prizes, gifts, things for the kids to do, and all kinds of important information and advice on health care.

And who better to tell you. After all, we're the people who "take care of you." We don't just pay for your medical care, we provide it. With a doctor you personally choose. (An internal medicine specialist for you, a pediatrician for your children.) On Sunday, we'll show you how it all works and what we do.

Stop in and you'll get a look at a lot of places most patients never see. Like medical records, laboratory and pharmacy.

Bone up on your body.

In orthopedics, you can shake the boney hand of a real skeleton. See how to wrap and take care of sprains. Plus we'll show you how you're supposed to walk with a cane or on crutches.

Visit our X-rated department.

In radiology, you'll see six types of X-ray tests and find out what they're for. There will be hand-outs on the specific X-rays and a skeleton made up of X-ray components. We'll even give you a quick quiz on anatomy.

We'll make you a counter offer.

In our pharmacy, you'll learn which over-the-counter drugs don't mix with prescription drugs. And give you a fact sheet to keep handy at home so you'll know what drugs not to mix. Our pharmacist will be on hand to answer any questions.

For your eyes only.

When we say we take care of you, we mean all of you. Which includes your eyes. So our visual services staff will give you eye-opening advice on what glasses are right for you.

This department's kids stuff.

Want to learn more about protecting your children from accidental poisoning in your home? Then stop by pediatrics. We'll also give you some useful tips on what snacks are healthy for kids.

Pick a cell.

In our lab, you can spend some time getting familiar with your blood. We'll have a special set-up so the kids can view blood cells through a microscope.

Gifts and give aways.

Chances are you won't leave our Medford Center empty-handed. Because we're giving away balloons, thermometers, carry bags and more. We'll also be raffling off first-aid kits and tee-shirts.

Get involved in baby talk.

In obstetrics and gynecology we'll discuss prenatal care. Including how to exercise when you're pregnant.

All this and Ronald McDonald too.

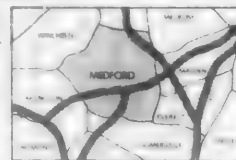

We've invited Ronald to come and perform his magic show for your kids. His theme is dental care, so while they're having fun, they'll also be learning some important lessons (showtime is 1:00 p.m.)

We've got your day mapped out.

The Harvard Community Health Plan is located in Medford Center just off Route 93.

So why not join us.

You'll learn a lot and have lots of fun doing it.

Harvard Community Health Plan.
We take care of you.

The '82 Campaign

The Townsman is offering an issue for the candidates for 17th Essex District Representative to discuss each week. This week the three candidates were asked:

The town of Andover has accumulated almost $4,000,000 in free cash or unspent monies. This year, the communities can use free cash to reduce property taxes. Would you support the use of this free cash to reduce Andover property taxes by 20 per cent?

Representative 17th Essex District

Kimberley Cronin

"Free cash' is not free. It is money collected from our taxes over the years. The Board of Selectmen and the Finance Committee recommend to the Town Meeting which, in turn, decides how that money will be spent. This is a local government issue, not a state government issue. The decision how to use the money should remain a local one. Free cash is quickly becoming a dwindling resource for communities. In the past, at the close of Town Meeting it has been voted to use a portion of the free cash to lower the impact on the tax rate as a result of increased spending by the Town Meeting. Now, however, our tax income is somewhat frozen. Free cash will increasingly be used for long term capital expenditures. I personally feel a portion of the free cash should be used to offset a destabilizing tax rate. However, the decision of how much will be used, if any, is a decision for the Selectmen and the voters at the Town Meeting."

Kimberley Cronin

Richard J. Bowen

Yes, I believe that Andover's $3.87 million in free cash should be used for albeit one-shot property tax relief especially since the town's surplus revenue account showed a June 30, 1982 balance of $5 million.

This is, after all, taxpayers' money which has been accumulated by town officials as a consequence of a deliberate long-standing policy of over-taxation. It's "return" to taxpayers, however, is a local decision to be made ultimately by town meeting and its members—each and every town voter.

There is an article in every annual town meeting warrant which calls for a vote on that amount in free cash which the assessors will be authorized to use in reducing the tax rate. The amount used is almost without exception that which is recommended by the finance committee and board of selectmen.

Questions concerning free cash such as what it is, how it comes about, how and when it may be used, how much can or should be used, therefore, must be directed to and answered by town officials, particularly the Andover board of selectmen and the finance committee.

The only possible state legislative roles that I can conceive of being played with regard to free cash might be in (1) restricting by statute the accumulation of free cash to be retained to a percentage of either the tax levy or the general fund operating budget, and (2) requiring publication of free cash information. I do not believe that either is necessary or appropriate for state legislative action at this time since among other things, I doubt that very many Massachusetts cities or towns enjoy anything resembling Andover's enviable free cash position.

Richard J. Bowen

Free cash information used to appear in the town annual report among the town accountant's financial statements and the finance committee's annual town meeting report. Perhaps Andover town officials should consider restoring its publication at least in these reports as a simple, but significant step in giving substance to the people's right to know.

I pledge my best efforts, if elected, to meet a high standard of keeping Andover-Lawrence citizens informed on state legislative matters of appropriate concern to them.

Sue Tucker

"This is an appropriate question to ask a candidate for local office. To ask me this question implies that a state legislator should have decision-making power over town finances. My goal as legislator would be to increase, not decrease, home rule and the degree to which Andover can manage its fiscal affairs.

"Since I would not presume to tell the town how this free cash should be spent, I will offer some general observations as a citizen interested in town finances. A 20 percent reduction in property taxes sounds attractive. To achieve this Andover would have to spend down to its last dollar. Good management dictates that a reasonable amount of free cash be available in any $30,000,000 operation. A community which operates with no reserve has to borrow at high interest rates to cover emergencies, compounding its problems in more ways than one.

"This year, through a combination of good planning and circumstances, Andover has accumulated an unusually large sum of free cash. Certainly some portion of this money will be appropriated to offset property taxes. However, I am confident that town boards will also seize this unique opportunity to do some long-range planning on how we can best cope with Proposition 2½ in future years. Pension funding and building maintenance are two examples of potential difficulties which could be addressed.

"Unlike state government, Andover rarely operates by crisis management. Our finances are ably managed by a combination of professional and volunteers. In addition, citizens have ample opportunity to participate in budget decisions. If it works, don't fix it."

Candidates Night Tuesday

The League of Women Voters of Andover, Voters Service Committee will host a Candidates' Night at Memorial Hall Library on Tuesday, Oct. 26, at 7:30 p.m. Candidates for state offices for representative (17th Essex) and senators (First Essex and Middlesex-precincts 6, 7, 8 and Second Essex and Middlesex 1, 2, 3, 4, 5) have been invited to participate.

Democrat Susan C. Tucker, Republican Kimberley Cronin and Independent Richard J. Bowen, all of Andover, seeking the State Representative seat have each been asked to make a two-minute opening statement after which they will respond to the question: Are there issues that the Massachusetts House is dealing with which, in your opinion, are better left out of the hands of state government? Questions from the audience will follow.

State Senator Patricia McGovern, unopposed, indicates she will try to attend. Incumbent Senator Robert C. Buell, Republican from Boxford, also indicates he will try to come. His challenger, Stephen J. O'Leary, Democrat from North Reading, will be there. The question these candidates will address is: There seems to be a feeling that Massachusetts state government employment has a long history of political patronage. Is there any legislative action that can be taken in order to effectively curtail this activity, or do you feel this attitude is an inevitability in Massachusetts politics?

To many voters the five referendum questions pose as much or more excitement than the races for office. So that voters will be better informed on these issues, the Secretary of State's office recently mailed information to each household in the state. Since the fifth referendum question was not passed when that was printed, it does not appear in the booklet. However, the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts Voters' Guide, a supplement to a Boston newspaper, does contain material on all five questions. The League and library are making copies available at Candidate's Night, the library, Town Clerk's office and the Andover Savings Bank.

The Aztec and Mayan Indians played a game somewhat like basketball. The player tried to bounce a hard rubber ball through a ring with their head, arms or legs. Scoring was so difficult that the game ended when either team scored.

Tucker Receives Support

The Massachusetts League of Conservation Voters announced that it has endorsed Susan Tucker (D) for state representative in the 17th Essex District. "We know Tucker's support of environmental issues from her work at the State House and feel her election would be an asset to the state of Massachusetts," the organization stated.

Tucker worked on the Committee on Natural Resources which oversees all water, land use and agricultural legislation. She was also a staff member of the Energy Development Caucus which writes and promotes legislation to conserve energy and develop clean, renewable energy sources.

According to Tucker, citizens are becoming more and more aware of the costs of pollution: in terms of both quality of life issues and cost to the taxpayer. "It is the taxpayer who finally foots the bill for cleaning rivers, drilling for new water supplies or removing toxic waste," she stated.

The League of Conservation Voters represents environmental leaders across the state.

Kenear To Exhibit At Galleries

Andover artist William Kinnear will exhibit his drawings and paintings at two galleries from Oct. 22-Nov. 26. This collection will feature earlier works in non-objective abstractions and figurative work from The Art Institute of Boston where he studied under Valtar Us, after completing his B.A. degree at Merrimack College, North Andover.

Presidential Scholar At Colby College

Karen Giammusso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Giammusso, has been named a Presidential Scholar at Colby College in Waterville, Maine. A graduate of Andover High School, she was selected for the freshman program in recognition of general academic excellence.

All of the 33 Presidential Scholars were in the top five percent of their graduating classes, had high SAT scores and were involved in a variety of high school extracurricular activities, including student council, varsity sports and school newspapers.

This fall the Presidential Scholars went on a two-day retreat to Southport, Maine. The weekend seminar dealt with the societal effects of technology and technological change, with presentations by economists, historians, scientists and philosophers.

This retreat is part of a series of seminars, lectures and discussion groups offered to the group during their freshman year. Presidential Scholars on financial aid are offered responsible campus jobs such as research assistant positions. All of these special programs are intended to encourage continued excellence at the college level.

"Thirithra" (1978) Painting (aluminum honeycomb and tubing) By Frank Stella.

Stella Exhibition At Addison

"Frank Stella: From Start To Finish" will open Oct. 23 at the Addison Gallery of American Art in Andover, and continue through Dec. 19.

This exhibition will offer not only Stella's finished pieces (work completed since 1970), but his preliminary working drawings and maquettes for them. It will reveal thought processes evolving as Stella creates his paintings.

This unusual show would be prized by any major museum, but is particularly appropriate for its teaching power at the Addison on the Phillips Academy campus, where 800 or more Andover students are enrolled in art courses each year, and where Stella studied as a student under the late Patrick Morgan in the museum's basement classrooms.

Certificate Program

The Salem branch of New Hampshire College offers a Saturday Certificate in Computer Programming designed for adults who need to acquire marketable skills quickly in order to enter the labor force for the first time, change business careers or reinforce skills demanded of them because of recent promotions.

This program starts Oct. 30 and can be completed by Oct. 22, 1983. There are nine three-credit courses that can be applied to two or four-year degree programs.

"Frank Stella: From Start To Finish" will not be shown elsewhere and is the only major exhibition of the artist's drawings and models together with his finished works. Stella chose the pieces for this eight-week Addison show, and the exhibition is a demonstration of his support for the gallery's current capital campaign.

This exhibition will climax the Addison Gallery's first endowment campaign in its 50-year history. The campaign seeks $4,765,000 to support Addison's role as a teaching museum for Andover students, drawing on masterworks from the permanent collection of 5,000 works of American art; as a community museum for the Merrimack Valley and Boston; and to support basic needs for conservation, building improvements, acquisition funds and professional staff.

The opening reception will be Saturday from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the gallery.

Courses Added

Due to the demand for additional classes at the Andover Senior Center, two new courses have been added to the fall program.

Oil Painting, with Kathy Piazza, is offered on Thursdays from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The eight-week course will teach the basic principles of art with exercises in composition, perception, the color wheel, color mixing, values, highlights and shadows.

Oriental Rug Making, with Claire Gately, is offered on Fridays from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Instruction will be provided in using a punch needle, loop and cut method. Students may choose from quality Halli rug patterns. Wall hangings and pillow coverings may also be selected. Rug backing, 100 percent wool yarn and other materials may be purchased from the instructor. This six-week course begins Oct. 29.

Registration is $7.50 for Andover residents age 60 and older, $15 for those under age 60. Non-residents pay a non-resident fee.

Strange Happenings Around Shawsheen School

During the last few weeks strange goings-on have been noted around the Shawsheen School off Poor Street in Andover. Some people have noticed odd-looking characters walking through the offices and climbing the stairways as well as roaming the grounds, and have commented that the the stranger-than-usual creatures have been walking around the school dungeon.

Although explanations seem to point to the Haunted House, sponsored by the Department of Community Services and Andover's Community Theater to be held on Thursday, Oct. 28, and Friday, Oct. 29, between 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., no one seems to be confirming anything at the Shawsheen School.

Howls, growls and scampering feet are just a few of the eerie sounds filtering down from the attic. Heavy feet, dragging chains along the staircases, and cold breezes blowing slowly through the halls have the doors creaking at every turn, and have put most of the workers in the building on a constant guard.

Last year's Haunted House attracted 500 werewolves, witches, ghosts and monsters and this year the old school building seems to be attracting its best. Crawly creatures resembling overgrown insects have adopted the school as a winter residence—watch where you step! There are giant spiders crawling along the walls and floors, and loathsome creatures hiding in the dark shadows.

Small children, as well as cowards—beware! Adults may want to enter the house to protect their children—beware, you may make larger targets for the screeching bats and howling werewolves.

Andover Community Theater and the Community Services Department invites the public to enjoy some old-time Halloween fun by visiting the Haunted House between 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 28 and 29. A small fee will be charged.

"A hero is no braver than an ordinary man, but he is brave five minutes longer." — Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Benefit Road Race Planned

The race against cancer continues. In fact, it will go right through the streets of Andover on Sunday, Nov. 14, at 1 p.m. when hundreds of Merrimack Valley runners will leave the starting place on Phillips Andover Academy campus and begin a 10 kilometer (6.2 miles) run to benefit the Greater Lawrence Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Sponsored by Raytheon Corporation, all entrants will receive a colorful T-shirt. There will be refreshments after the race courtesy of Pabst Blue Ribbon, Lincoln Foods and Frito Lay, Inc.

Registration forms can be picked up at area sport shops and YMCAs or by calling the Lowell American Cancer Society office in Lowell. Deadline for entries is Oct. 31.

The first Andover resident to finish will receive the N. Penrose Hallowell Award. There will be awards for winners in each category.

In past years more than 800 runners have participated, making the road race one of the largest in the Merrimack Valley.

Nursery Begins Year

Christ Church Nursery School has begun its 14th year with Mrs. Jayne DeConstant as teacher/director and Mrs. Bernadine Sommer, teacher.

Already off on a busy schedule of activities, the class has enjoyed a morning at Calzetta's Farm in North Andover apple picking. Several mothers volunteered to drive and assist, but brought more pears home than apples.

This year's students are Vanessa Blank, Ellen Buckley, Bradford Croteau, Julia Darling, Matthew Garland, Patrick Hess, Susan James, Sarah King, T.J. LaPointe, Allison Lowrie, Erin McCarthy, Erin McConville, Jacob O'Leary, Adam Rollfs, Steven Rosadini, Vanessa Scarbeau, Michael Thresher, Brooke Weddle, Nicholas Wilson and T.J. Witham.

The board of directors are Edith King, chairman; Sandy Parent, secretary; Susan Witham, treasurer; Christine Darling, hospitality; Mary Lou Lowrie, publicity; Susan Rollfs and Mary K. Weddle, admissions; George Harris, equipment; Sarah Warren, vestry liaison and Barbara Hendren, ex-officio.

One-fourth of the school enrollment is reserved for children who have special needs—emotional, physical, social or financial, with scholarships available.

Names are being accepted for the 1983-84 school year. Information concerning this and scholarships may be obtained from Susan Rollfs, 28 Prospect Road, Andover, or Mary K. Weddle, 3 Countryside Way, Andover.

Black Eagles To Play DCS Fall Event

The New Black Eagle Jazz Band, a nationally renowned group, will perform at the Andover Country Club, Friday, Nov. 19, at 8:30 p.m. as a special Fall event offered by the Department of Community Services.

Thirty-five years ago, some people kept from being bored on Sundays in Boston by attending Dixieland sessions. A single blazing star would be imported each week from New York. None of its members was at all famous. Some gigged during the week wherever they could, from dance bands in Chinese restaurants to bar mitzvahs. Some worked day jobs—a bank president, principal, cab driver. Yet when they got together on Sundays and holidays and once in a while as the opening act at a concert, they would sound so exhilarating as to make us regionally proud. And unlike the Red Sox, the home-grown jazzmen never had a bad season. Most of the Sunday bands have vanished but there still are regional combos. One of the best of them, large-spirited, precise, abounding in hot grace, is the New Black Eagle Jazz Band. Their soloists include an extraordinarily resilient and even lyrical Eli Newberger, a robust strong-willed soprano saxophonist Stan McDonald and a lusty trombonist, Stan

Vincent. The leader, cornetist Tony Pringle, plays a breathy, swaggering and nearly always compelling horn.

All the members of the New Black Eagle Jazz Band lead full-time lives in addition to their nearly full-time work as musicians. The band has been together for six years and has a repertoire of 400 tunes. They play every Thursday evening at the Sticky Wicket Pub in Hopkinton and more than 120 outside engagements a year. Frequently they appear at jazz festivals in places like California, St. Louis, New Orleans and Breda, Holland, where they were billed as the feature attraction of what is the major traditional jazz festival on the continent.

Tickets for the New Black Eagle Jazz Band performance can be purchased at the Department of Community Services office in Shawsheen School

Disability Curriculum Program

"Developing a Curriculum on Disability Awareness" will be offered by the Andover Schools Health Program on Tuesdays during October and November at the Bancroft School Media Center from 3:30 p.m. to 5:45 p.m.

The in-service program is designed to train teachers and volunteers in the fourth-grade curriculum, "Understanding Disabilities." It will provide classroom teachers with information on mainstreaming handicapped children into their classrooms.

"Understanding Disabilities" is a four-unit curriculum presenting materials on blindness, deafness, physical limitations and mental retardation. Children are given information about these disabilities, a chance to work with aids and appliances for the handicapped, simulation activities and opportunities to talk with guest speakers who have the disabilities.

Additional materials will be presented on learning and emotional disorders.

Teachers who have taught children with disabilities will discuss their experiences and techniques in mainstreaming.

The curriculum is part of the health education program for the Andover elementary schools. Parent volunteers are needed to implement this curriculum in the classrooms.

For further information or to register, contact Brenda O'Brien, health education resource coordinator for the Andover school system.

Mime

Well known actor and mime, Bernard Bragg, will appear at Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill, Friday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. His performance is sponsored by the Gallaudet College Extension Center at the college.

Bragg is a graduate of Gallaudet College, the national college for the deaf in Washington, D.C., and has studied with Marcel Marceau. Co-founder of the National Theatre for the Deaf, he is also a director, teacher, playwright and television personality.

Task Force

ives of the Traffic and Safety Committee, Cable Advisory Committee, School Committee, library trustees, COA and Community Watch Committee.

And on the Capital Improvement/Redevelopment and Reuse task force, representatives of the Development and Industrial Commission, Reuse Committee, Historical Commission, Finance Committee, Design Advisory Group and All American Cities Competition Coordinating Committee will work with planner Andrew Girdwood.

Townpeople representing the community "at large" should also be added, Curran said, although he recommended keeping each task force to 15 members.

And Bradshaw recommended adding a League of Women Voters representative to each task force.

Town employees will work with each group — on a "purely voluntary basis". For instance, the town's finance and budget director, purchasing agent and treasurer/tax collector would work with the capital improvement group.

The planners also met with planning consultant Dan Cahill of DFC Associates, Andover, Tuesday night. Cahill, hired to work on the housing component of the comprehensive plan less than two weeks ago, gave the board his preliminary thoughts on Andover's housing situation.

The average sale price of an Andover home during the first half of 1982 was $110,000 to $113,000, Cahill said. With the median income of Andover families at $31,000 in 1980 (compared to $14,000 in 1970), a "moderate income" home could now be set at $70,000, he indicated.

Cahill will return to the board with more information on the town's housing in about six weeks, he said.

Gardeners View Fall Arrangements

The Four Seasons Garden Club held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. William Adams. Her co-hostesses were Mrs. Carl Kurth and Mrs. Henry Theriault. Final plans were announced for a "Holiday Happening" to be held at South Church on Nov. 17. For more information, contact any club member.

Mrs. Robert Richards (Claire) gave a demonstration of fall arrangements using fruits, garden flowers and dried wild flowers. She made special mention of the blue ribbon won by past-president Mrs. Joseph Saliby for her entry in class "Crack of Dawn" at the Topsfield Fair. This was especially gratifying as Mrs. Richards is one of the founders of the flower show division of the fair. She is a master judge, past chairman of the design division of the Boston Flower Show and a member of the Groveland West Newbery, Lawrence and Andover garden clubs, as well as director of the Board of Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts. She is the author of many articles and television presentations.

A "peace" luncheon will be served at the parsonage for those who wish to continue the dialogue and become involved in the movement for peace.

The church worships at 10:30 a.m., with church school for adults and youth at 9:30 a.m. and for children at 10:30 a.m.

Historians Projects Funded

The Andover Historical Society announces the receipt of two recent funding awards for improved preservation of historical materials and improved access to the document and decorative arts collections.

The Anna M. Sanborn Trust's $6000 grant will fund the services of a professional archivist for several months. The archivist will establish a cataloging system and train volunteers to process the many letters, deeds, account books, diaries, church records and other resources now in the historical society's collection. These documents range from about 1700 through the 1960s and represent numerous facets of local life, from recreational activities to business affairs.

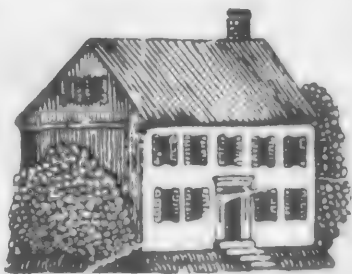

The Mass. Council on the Arts and Humanities has awarded $990 to the Andover Historical Society to partially fund professional conservation of a large collection of watercolors. These drawings of flowers and scenes were done by Elisabeth Foster of Andover during the 1835-45 period, and are representative of the artwork done by many schoolgirls of that era. Conservation of these watercolors is an important preliminary to the upcoming exhibition on 19th century education scheduled by the Andover Historical Society for the spring of 1984.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit educational institution open to both members and public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, contact the society office Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Assess the organizational design of the guidance department, clarifying responsibilities and possible realignment of staff, and decrease the student-counselor ratio to manageable levels: Counselors' scheduling loads were lightened to free up more time for counseling. Project Discovery was added.

Involve department heads and supervisory personnel with the guidance staff and administration in the scheduling process: Head teachers and program advisors were involved.

Of the 218 recommendations made by the Commission to Andover High, 52 percent are complete, 25 percent are in progress, 15 percent are in the planning stage, four percent are rejected and four percent have seen no action, according to Jennings.

The broad goals she has set for the high school include:

Strengthening academic standards with a curriculum that responds to the current needs of the students; involving the community and the parents in the daily life of the school; expanding student government and student activities; including staff, students and parents in decision-making; disciplining and helping troubled students before problems grow beyond the control of the home and school; creating an inviting school environment.

The positive and constructive discussion of the high school, combined with news that the elementary program review question-aire is ready and progress is being made on the secondary program review, led Schoolman Donald Robb to declare that the committee spent more time Tuesday evening discussing matters directly relating to school and the children than they have at most other meetings in the recent past. The audience applauded his words.

Conflicting Views On Gravel Pit Leads To Delay In Permit Grant

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Developer Yvon Cormier continued to remove gravel from the Andover Country Club development at full tilt during the summer, abutters told the Board of Selectmen Monday night, and the accompanying problems continued as well.

But according to the town's building inspector, the developer has stayed within his rights at the development, removing earth material only from roadway areas. (Under the town's gravel removal bylaw, Cormier does not need a permit to remove earth material from roadways, but only from house lots.)

Those conflicting views of what is happening at the country club site led the selectmen to table their review of Cormier's gravel removal permit until Nov. 1.

The town manager suggested that the building inspector, developer's attorney, and neighborhood representatives (including an attorney who is representing some of the neighbors) meet to iron out their differences about work at the site, and then return to the selectmen with a set of recommended conditions for the permit.

Selectman William Dalton emphasized that "no one has voted in favor of a permit tonight." But work will go on at the site, as the developer continues excavating in roadway areas.

One resident was skeptical that the delay would accomplish much. Jean Corley of Lowell Street pointed out that nearly 40 stipulations were placed on Cormier's original permit, but "somehow were not monitored. What would be the use of coming up with new stipulations if they are not going to be monitored?"

Cormier appeared before the selectmen at a public hearing at Memorial Hall Library, seeking either a renewal of his one-year gravel removal permit (first issued in June 1980), or a new general removal permit.

The developer plans to build more than 270 homes on the 360-acre parcel, which is bounded by Canterbury, Beacon and Lowell streets and Chandler Circle. With only a few homes now under construction, Cormier has estimated that it will take up to 15 years to complete the development, working in seven sections.

Cormier's plans require leveling much of the hilly site. According to his original permit, he will excavate and haul away a total of 1,760,000 cubic yards of earth material from five sections to complete the development.

The developer had come before the board in late June, but the selectmen delayed renewing his permit to give neighbors a summer respite from construction problems.

Summer, however, offered abutters no relief, several neighbors said, cataloguing problems they say they have endured for the past three years: blowing sand, noise, vibrations, and speeding trucks.

"There was no change" during the summer, Andover Atty. Reginald Marden, representing some of the neighbors, said. "He kept going full speed ahead. And there was no permit at that time."

Building Inspector Salvatore "Sam" DeSalvo, charged with enforcing the terms of Cormier's permit, disagreed. "From what I've seen, he was working specifically on roadways. I at no time saw him taking fill off the lots — he was taking it off the roadways."

Among "numerous violations" of the permit, Marden claimed that the developer had excavated more than five acres at a time, working on up to 25 acres at a time. But Arthur Fosse, the developer's engineer, replied that no more than six acres were ever opened up at one time.

Most of the complaints voiced by residents were familiar to the selectmen. Tanya Adams of Canterbury Street said that new construction in the area behind her home is sending "dust all over the place. It's really annoying." She told the board that uncovered sand piled around new foundations "blows into our yard all the time."

Adams added that she and her children had counted an average of five to ten trucks leaving the site every ten minutes and driving down Canterbury Street.

Nicholas Hill of Lowell Street said the construction was causing vibrations that were damaging property, and dust that was damaging the residents' health.

"It subjects us to property damage and dust and dirt. We are essentially living in a small sand dune," Hill said. A water truck required by the town to keep the dust down was "a joke," Hill said, "like using a water gun on a beach."

Harold Tynning of Beacon Street was one of several residents who said they had seen large trucks driving at high speeds, "some in excess of 60 miles per hour," he told the board.

Ellen Zipeto of Canterbury Street said that construction noise usually begins at 7 a.m., disturbing the neighbors, and asked for a later starting time — especially on Saturdays. Terms of the permit forbid gravel removal on Saturdays.

Fosse told the board that there is no excavation on Saturdays, but construction crews do "work the land."

Zipeto also requested that a gate at the end of Canterbury Street at Beacon Street be locked, as it has been in the past, to keep out traffic.

And Therese Reid of Canterbury Street said she was frightened recently by dynamite blasting at the development, done with no notice to the neighbors. The gravel permit requires the developer to notify abutters of any blasting.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that the blasting was done in the process of installing sewer lines — not

No New Forest Trails Are Blazed As Fire Officials Halt Hearing

By Sue Aucella Deacon

After getting off to a rough start Tuesday night, a 7:30 public meeting on a proposed cross-country ski center at Harold Parker State Forest ended abruptly before 8 on orders of the Fire Department.

Two fire officials, responding to a complaint, asked officials from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management (DEM) to halt the meeting, held in the Memorial Hall Library conference room, because the room was filled beyond its capacity.

Charles Dane, chief of recreation for the department, said the meeting would be rescheduled for a larger room as soon as possible. The new date was not set as of Wednesday afternoon.

What drew the overflow crowd to the meeting was a proposal to restrict four miles of trails in the state forest (located mostly in North Andover) to paying cross-country skiers only. A private businessman, D.C. Johnstone of Carlisle, would run the facility. The DEM also proposes closing off Harold Parker Road and Berry Pond Road in North Andover to vehicular traffic.

Hunters from the Andover Sportsmen's Club, horseback riders and cross-country skiers who have been using the trails without charge, and neighbors worried about police and fire protection have all expressed opposition to the plan.

When a North Reading resident asked for a show of hands from those opposed near the start of Tuesday's meeting, nearly everyone in the overcrowded room raised a hand.

According to Dane, the meeting was called so state officials could "listen to what everyone has to say, collect information and evaluate it," later adding, "Nothing is cast in stone."

During a selectmen's meeting Monday night, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said town officials had "received no communication from the state" concerning the proposal.

Donald Stoddard, regional forest and parks supervisor for the DEM, said Johnstone first approached the state with his proposal in February 1981, and serious discussions began this April.

"We are trying to come up with ways to utilize state property more completely," Stoddard said. Explaining that more than 700,000 people live within a ten-mile radius of the forest, he said, "We are trying to let these taxpayers come to this facility and use it in the wintertime."

Stoddard said there are 15 miles of trails in the 3,000-acre state forest, and under Johnstone's proposal, four miles of trails near the Bradford and Salem ponds would be closed to all but paying skiers from mid-December to mid-March.

In addition, the state would close off Harold Parker Road at Route 114 and at Middleton Road; and close off Berry Pond Road at Middleton Road and Haverhill Street. The state had originally planned to close off Middleton Road in North Andover as well, but abandoned that idea after meetings with abutters, Stoddard indicated.

The supervisor said those roads "could be better used for recreation" if they were left unplowed and closed to traffic. "There is precious little enough property (available for recreation in the forest, now," he said, "and to let automobiles into every inch of it is something we're trying to move away from."

But resident Whitman Haselton said that closing those roads would hinder police and fire access to area homes. And Monday night, the Board of Selectmen voted unanimously to oppose the closing of those roads as a "menace to the public safety."

State Senator Robert Buell spoke against the plan Tuesday night, saying he did not "see any need" for blocking off the roads. The facility would also "interfere with riders and hunters," Buell said, suggesting that it could be moved to another part of the forest.

"I question the way this is being done," the senator said. "I hope you'll listen to these people and make these changes."

Dane had trouble getting the abbreviated meeting underway because people packed into the foyer outside the meeting room could not hear what was being said; there was a short delay while he urged those people to move into the room, where people were already standing against every wall and in the aisle.

Once Stoddard began to speak, he was interrupted repeatedly by a North Reading man who said he was opposed to the project. Several people in the audience urged the resident to be quiet and let the meeting proceed.

Comments on the proposal can be addressed to Charles Dane, 100 Cambridge St., Boston, 02022.

Board Opposes Public Funds For Private School Use

By John P. Sawyer

The Andover School Committee took a stand this week, with member Susan Poore abstaining, against a November ballot question that would allow public funds to be used for materials and aid to private schools.

The committee voted 4-0 in a show of opposition to Question I, which will appear on the ballot when citizens vote on Nov. 2.

Schoolmen Robert Smith and Donald Robb pointed out that passage of the question would lead to a funneling of some funds away from monies currently being used by public schools.

Committeeman Michael Giammusso noted he is not only opposed to the question on a practical basis (considering the financial situation of the public schools), but also said America was founded on public education, explaining he believes public and private schools should be kept separate.

Steve Jankauskus, president of the Andover Education Association, told the school committee it would be "irresponsible" for them not to take a stand on the question. He was against Question I.

But Susan Poore abstained from voting for or against. She said she didn't mind discussing the matter, but noted that voting is a private action, maintaining she didn't feel she had to take a public vote.

She did point out, however, that citizens who send their children to private schools also support the public schools through taxes. She also noted what would happen if children in private schools transferred back into the public schools — the town would have to pay for the public education of those children.

House Moving Has Problems

When Randall Hurley of Haverhill moved a house from 49 Poor Street across the town line into Lawrence this week, "virtually everything that could have gone wrong did," the town manager said — "except that it didn't catch fire."

Hurley began the move Monday, parked the house on George Street overnight, and completed the move late Tuesday afternoon. The house is now sitting on a new foundation at 37 Fowler St., Lawrence.

The Board of Selectmen, who gave Hurley permission for the move two weeks ago, were less than pleased with one resident's report on how it went.

James McCarron of Sherbourne Street said he was surprised to see the house heading down his street Monday morning, because he had received no advance notice. He contacted several neighbors and learned that they had not been notified either, he told the board.

Hurley had told the selectmen he had neighbors' signatures supporting the move, which was originally scheduled for last Wednesday. But Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said he postponed the move because Hurley had not submitted the signatures.

This week, the house owner told Mahony he had given the signatures to the building inspector. Mahony later learned that the inspector did not have the signatures, he said.

Chairman Norma Gammon concluded, "We were had."

According to McCarron, the movers cut down an entire red maple tree near Princeton Street. The manager Tuesday confirmed that a tree was taken down, but said he did not know to whom it belonged.

In Executive Session Selectmen To Review Reuse Proposals

The Board of Selectmen will meet behind closed doors Friday afternoon to review developers' proposals for the reuse of East Junior High School's two wings.

The EJH reuse project was on the selectmen's agenda Monday night, but Selectman Donn Byrne moved to table the discussion until the Reuse Committee has made a recommendation to the board. Byrne said to discuss developers' proposals before the Reuse Committee has submitted its report would be "premature."

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony requested the executive session for 5 o'clock Friday. He said the Reuse Committee was scheduled to meet Wednesday night and "come out with one" developer's proposal for the selectmen's review.

The manager cited negotiations on a contract and sale of property as the grounds for a closed session.

Selectmen William Dalton and Edward Harris abstained from the vote on Byrne's motion to table the discussion.

Once the selectmen find a developer's proposal that meets their approval, they must call a town meeting so that voters can approve or disapprove the plans.

School Spirit...Catch It!

Andover High will be observing its annual Homecoming weekend this week, highlighted by the Saturday afternoon football game with Wilmington at Lovely Field.

The particular occasion could well be used as an opportunity to reinstitute some spirit at the school, which seems to be lacking in some respects.

While there are numerous participants in the Fall athletic programs and in the marching band, there seems to be a lack of student support at the various competitions, both during the week and on Saturday afternoons.

The football team is performing well, has amassed a good record and given top-notch effort even in their losses, particularly during the controversial, heart-breaking loss to Methuen last Saturday.

The soccer team continues to mow down the opposition and registering the potential for post-season play once again this year.

The other Fall athletic programs are also moving along well with Andover players holding their own in all athletic endeavors.

Add to that the efforts of the Andover High Band, which has appeared in competition during the first few weeks of the school year, including a commendable field show and competition at Lovely Field earlier this month, and there would seem to be sufficient incentive to bring out a greater representation of the total student body than is currently attending the various functions.

The athletes and bandsmen put in countless hours of preparation for their weekend or midweek competition and performances. Band members spend Sundays sometimes throughout the day rehearsing, both musically and in drill formations to prepare for the subsequent week's half-time entertainment, or for some future competition.

Indeed, such effort is worthy of support by fellow students, which according to reports, has not been forthcoming as in previous years.

It is unfortunate.

School years, seemingly arduous and long at this stage of life, pass all too soon and the responsibilities of life become more demanding. Now is the time for students to be enjoying the more pleasant opportunities available to them.

This weekend will provide an opportunity for a rejuvenation of school spirit as it should be at Andover High. Doubtless there will be graduates returning for another afternoon of enjoyable fall blend of sports and fellowship on familiar grounds.

The various classes will be presenting floats, there will be selection of a Homecoming Queen and other activities throughout the weekend.

Borrowing from the recently-completed World Series concerning Baseball Fever and paraphrasing a little, for Andover wouldn't this be a good time for 'School Spirit...Catch It!'

Volunteers Appreciated

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Many volunteers worked very hard to make the recent pro-Bottle Bill Clean-a-thon a huge success and a valuable service to Andover. These students from the Andover High School Ecology Club, directed by Phil Nelson, were the heart and soul of the effort: Guy Brooksbank, Derek Roberts, John Tremblay, Robert Nuzzo, Chris McGinley, Jeff Fox, Melvin Thomas, Wah Gee Chu, Clayton Gonzales, Wendy Bailey, Nicole Marcella, Karen Kulig, Sandy Cookson, Julie Burke, Chris Fortier, Ron Lindquist, Charlie Lamson, Joe Keefe, Mike Lucey, Scott Clancy, Dave Oscar, Brian Sheehy, Mike McDade and Linda Newman.

The Phillips Academy Biology Club, sponsored by Tom Cone, was represented by Eamon Roche, Vincent Walker, Sonny Griffith and several off-the-street recruits. John Weiss was responsible for publicity in the student newspaper.

Also helping were Ly Beattie, Tina Girdwood, Peggy Hutchins and Peggy Corbett of Andover Recycling. Sheila Kachen and Jane Griswold of the League of Women Voters each brought several children to help, including Aaron and Kristen Schmuhl, Natalie Dowell, Tanya Kachen, Heidi Tobias and Alexandra and Peter Griswold.

Other workers were Heinz Galm, Debby Girdwood, Paul and Tom Hollenbeck, Mrs. Harld Bailey, Manuel and Sarah Arista, Chris Corbett, Penny Cox and several soccer players at the Shawsheen fields.

Public Works Director Bob McQuade and Tom Christopher arranged for a dumpster for trash. Dave White hauled away sorted glass in a bin he provided and Town Manager Kenneth Mahony gave us permission to use the Town Hall parking lot as the center of operations on Saturday.

I urge the people of Andover to thank personally any of these volunteers they happen to know and to vote YES on Question 4 on Nov. 2.

M.J. Crowley has a gang of men at work today picking Baldwin apples in his orchard on Elm street. Mr. Crowley says that the fruit is exceptionally large and plentiful this year. Orders can be left for any quantity with him at P.J. Hannon's store.

A unique entertainment will be furnished by the Firemen at their Thanksgiving ball in the shape of an artist in chalk and clay. George Channing Darling comes highly recommended as an artist and storyteller and an evening's entertainment furnished by him will be well worth going to.

"Eggs will be 75 cents a dozen by Christmas and everything else in proportion" is the tale of woe recently unfolded to the writer by one of the leading provision men in the city of Boston. Up, up, up is the trend all along the line for everything which enters into the daily life, and it is very true that the burden is being felt most seriously by all classes of people.

The Stevens Memorial library, a public building of which the town of North Andover should be justly proud and which was erected and given to the town by the late Hon. Moses T. Stevens and wife, Charlotte Emeline Osgood Stevens, in memory of his parents, Captain Nathaniel Stevens and Harriet Hale Stevens, will be opened shortly after November 1st.

Monday marks the start of a two weeks' drive by the local unit of the Red Cross to make up its annual membership quota and also to assist in providing funds for the Emergency Committee work during the winter. James K. Selden is chairman of the general committee in charge.

Twenty six individuals or firms in Andover have bills of over $1,000, according to figures secured by the Townsman after the mailing of the bills early this week. The American Woolen Co. is still the largest taxpayer this year with a bill of $65,257.20, and the Textile Realty Co. is billed at $32,815.20.

A heavy Bernard L. McDonald coal truck tried to imitate a trained dog by standing up on its hind wheels in front of the empty store in Daly's block on Main street. In its rapid rise it came near seriously injuring the driver and his assistant who were at the rear unloading the soft coal and it also smashed the plate glass window and the door of the store.

Exercises as dignified in their impressiveness as the new building itself marked the dedication of Andover's fine new post office Saturday afternoon. A congratulatory telegram from President Hoover, a dedicatory address by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, an historical sketch by Dr. Claude M. Fuess, remarks by Acting Postmaster Fred E. Cheever and music by the Legion Bugle and Drum Corps featured the observance.

Although public school absenteeism continued at about 17 per cent Wednesday morning school officials were hopeful that the peak had been reached. Supt. Edward I. Erickson said there has been no decision to close any schools, on the advice of the Board of Health and school physician.

Whether the high rate of absenteeism can be blamed on Asian Flu appeared debatable.

The Board of Public Works has awarded a contract for the addition to the town garage to L.C. Cyr Co., the second lowest bidder. "We deemed him to be the most responsible bidder," stated chairman Allen M. Flye. Cyr bid $24,395 while Suburban Household Enterprises bid $23,900.

Cost factors involved in a proposed salary schedule for school teachers will be discussed at the School Committee meeting Nov. 5. The special Salary Evaluation Committee, appointed by the School Committee, offered its first written report last week, basically repeating points made in a verbal report last July.

The Homemaking Department at Andover High School is busy familiarizing its students with the new equipment available this year. The first project is mastering the new sewing machines and their attachments. The girls, to prove that they have mastered these attachments, are making organdy hostess aprons.

A special town meeting has been called for Monday, Oct. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium to once again act on the selection of a site for a new sanitary landfill operation. The Selectmen and Finance Committee met jointly Monday night and as a result of a complete review of available data, have agreed to go to the session with a unified approach. An in-town disposal site was agreed upon and the Cyr-Cronin-Brooks site the location.

Dear Chief Downs:

I would like to compliment the efforts of Harold Wright regarding the fire prevention program being conducted in our schools.

I have received many positive comments regarding Mr. Wright's professionalism and thoroughness with children of all elementary school ages.

We are indeed very fortunate to have such a fine firefighter in our community.

Sports Equipment, Supplies May Drop From Budget

School budget time may see the elimination of some athletic equipment and supplies, warns a letter from Athletic Director Richard Swift.

Discussion of Swift's letter this week was put off by the school committee until its next meeting, when it is expected the athletic director will appear to answer questions.

But before schoolmen finished Tuesday night's session, Susan Poore noted she wanted to see an analysis of last year's sports budget and user fees to complement upcoming discussion of the matter.

Assistant Superintendent Charles Mitsakos pointed out that committeemen had already received the athletic cost figures when they approved the current budget.

But Poore said she wanted an analysis of the various sports and their costs, explaining that some sports are more inexpensive than others and some require a greater student expenditure than others.

Swift's letter states, "In the past, I have attempted to meet the needs of all the 75 teams without success. Uniform products change style, materials change, and students and coaches demand upgraded uniforms. In some sports, such as football and basketball, I have been able to buy a percentage of replacement uniforms due to the fact that the uniforms have remained the same."

"As this is the second year of a drastically reduced budget, the items of the lowest priority are going to become scarce or eliminated."

Swift lists the following priorities for the purchasing of equipment and materials:

1. Safety equipment, which includes all protective equipment for each sport, such as pads and helmets for football and hockey, batting helmets, face masks, chest and leg protectors for baseball and softball, etc.

2. Medical supplies, which includes first aid equipment such as tape, kits, Band Aids, wraps, antiseptic, cold packs, scissors, crutches, etc.

3. Playing equipment, which includes balls, bats, tees, scorebooks, sticks, game clocks, game horns, etc.

4. Uniforms, which includes essential items necessary to play the game, such as game jerseys with numbers and lettering in most sports and shorts or pants to complete the uniform.

5. Personal items required to play sports, such as mouthpieces in football, hockey and field hockey.

6. "There are also non-essential items that due to the fact they are not usable following a season are generally kept by the students. Girls swimming uniforms, socks for many sports, shoes for football, field hockey, etc., are examples of non-essential personal items that had been purchased in the past."

Educational Puppets To Appear

An almost life-size troupe of hand-crafted puppet/children, along with two gifted puppeteers, will entertain, educate and interact with children of all ages during two performances, at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., at West Junior High, Andover, on Sunday, Oct. 31. This special event, sponsored by the Andover School of Montessori, is offered as an introduction to the realities of life for handicapped children, their many similarities to non-handicapped children, and the development of understanding and friendship between the two groups. All of this is accomplished during the audience participatory show.

"The Kids on the Block," created by nationally-recognized special educator Barbara Aiello in conjunction with Emmy-Award winning designer and puppeteer Ingrid Crepeau, have appeared all over the United States, Canada and the Bahamas and performed before the 21st UNESCO General Conference in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, for representatives of 150 United Nations member countries. Nationally they have appeared on several television shows.

The puppets represent a cross-section of a truly typical group of children, some with and some without "handicaps."

Tickets are available on a first come/first served basis at the Andover School of Montessori on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 20, 21, 27 and 28 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

She Wore A Yellow Ribbon

Memorial Hall Library

John Wayne gives a remarkable performance as an aging army captain in "She Wore A Yellow Ribbon," the feature film in the Friday evening series at Memorial Hall Library, to be shown Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m. Shot in the Monument Valley, this 1949 film won an Oscar for photography. Next week, Oct. 29, Burt Lancaster and Montgomery Clift star in the award winning "From Here to Eternity." All films are open to the public at no charge and are provided in part as a service of the Eastern Massachusetts Regional Library System, a program funded by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Great Books Discussion

The next meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group at Memorial Hall Library will be held Tuesday, Oct. 26, at 7:30 p.m. For this session only the group will meet in the Children's Room on the lower level. The play, "Becket" by Anouilh will be discussed. The group welcomes new members at any time.

October Displays

Several timely topics are featured in book displays this month at Memorial Hall Library. World Series statistics, memories of past baseball seasons and several new sports biographies are highlighted in one exhibit in the main reading room. Information and books on the United Nations organization, whose 37th anniversary is commemorated on Oct. 24, is the subject of the other display. In addition, a special exhibit on pregnancy and the dramatic effects smoking, caffeine, drugs and alcohol have on unborn babies has been prepared by the Merrimack Valley Prevention Center and the March of Dimes.

"will be remedied in future moves" with a better system for notifying abutters and controlling property damage.

The house was moved by Merry Contracting of Duxbury. The route it traveled took it along Poor Street, Ann's Lane, Sherbourne Street, Princeton Avenue, George Street, the Corbett Road bridge over Route 495, Juliette Road and Topping Road before it crossed into Lawrence.

The original house site will be used for parking for the Aberdeen Condominiums.

The selectmen had not given permission for any tree removal, but only for trimming branches if necessary.

Some tree branches were damaged, along with one fire hydrant, Mahony added.

The manager said he questioned the wisdom and "cost-effectiveness" of moving such a large house such a long distance. But in the future, each similar request must be evaluated on its own merits, he added.

Selectman William Dalton said Monday that the problems McCarron described

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Designing a kitchen requires proper planning to successfully accommodate the many kitchen activities that will be taking place. For example, it is helpful to include a heat-resistant work counter adjacent to the range. It also makes sense to allow ample room between the range and sink. These are the two busiest work areas in the kitchen. A dishwasher should not be placed at right angles to the sink. In an open position, the dishwasher door would then block access to the sink. The dishwasher door would then block access to the sink. The dishwasher should also not be placed next to the refrigerator. Both appliances emit heat and both will work longer and more efficiently.

Varsity Soccer Still Undefeated

By She Livermore

In varsity soccer action last week, Andover beat perennial rival Billerica 4-2 on Wednesday and eked out a 2-1 victory over Haverhill on Saturday. The undefeated Golden Warriors are now 13-0 in the MVC League.

Andover 4 - Billerica 2

On Wednesday second place Billerica came to Andover and found the Golden Warriors napping. Before the midway point of the first quarter, Billerica was leading 2-0. The first goal came three minutes into the contest as a Billerica player took the ball away from an Andover defender, went in on Tri-Capt. Dan Kimball and scored with a nice shot. This was followed four minutes later by a mis-kick on a clearing attempt which resulted in Billerica's second goal.

Andover responded with one goal late in the first quarter as Todd Lockwood made a nice shot on a ball which had not been completely cleared by the Billerica goalkeeper. This goal seemed to awaken Andover and the Warriors tied it up in the second quarter with a score by Jim Denoncourt. Denoncourt was sent behind the Billerica defense on an excellent pass by Tri-Capt. Steve Carbone and with his left foot, he beat the Billerica goalkeeper.

With the score tied 2-2, Andover had the determination to come back in the third quarter and score two more goals. Carbone scored the winning goal at 14 minutes into the quarter, converting an excellent pass from David Keene. About one minute later, Chris Egan scored Andover's final goal as Carbone raced the keeper for the ball, reached it just ahead of him and passed it over to Egan who then shot it into the net.

Apart from the first seven minutes, it was a well-played game with Andover controlling the ball in the Billerica end.

This loss dropped Billerica out of second place and could prove costly in their effort to make it to the State Finals.

Andover 2 - Haverhill 1

On Saturday, Haverhill came to Andover well prepared to hand the Golden Warriors their first loss of the season and might have but for Andover's rally in the final quarter. In almost a replay of their first encounter earlier in the season, Andover played sluggishly throughout much of the contest and the offense missed many good opportunities.

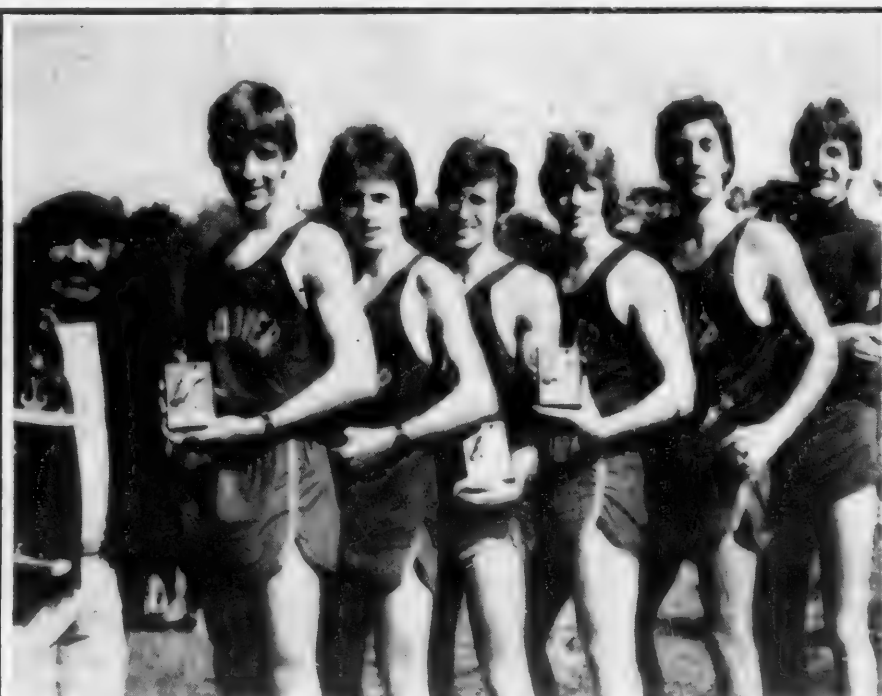

At the halfway mark the game was tied 0-0.

In the third quarter Haverhill took the lead on a goal by Nick Tsouknakis. Tri Capt. Dan Kimball came out to the side to block a play and the ball went into an open net. Shortly thereafter, Andover tied it up on a disputed goal by Tri-Capt. Steve Carbone from a pass by Paul Hevehan, which the Haverhill keeper caught barely inside the net.

Andover appeared to throw off its former lethargy in the final quarter and pressed the attack. This effort resulted in the game-winner scored at 15 minutes into the quarter by Greg Batten who picked up a loose ball in the penalty area, which Haverhill's defense did not completely clear following a corner kick, and kicked it into the net over the sprawling Haverhill keeper.

With the score 2-1 Haverhill surged, but the Golden Warriors held on to win the victory.

With only six games left in the schedule, every team that Andover plays will be working hard to be the first team to put them in the loss column. Andover must recognize this fact and make every game they play their finest effort.

On Friday the Warriors will welcome Wilmington to Lovely Field at 3:30 p.m., unless the game is delayed until Saturday morning at 10:30 due to Homecoming Week activities.

Swimmers Still Invincible, Sink Medford

The Andover High School's varsity girls' swim team remained invincible in the Merrimack Valley Conference as they knocked Medford from the ranks of the undefeated 101-71 in the Medford High School pool last Friday.

The Golden Warrior Wave began the march to their fourth victory of the season, 11th overall, when Lisa Kleschinsky, Ann Marie Grogan, Diane Sagaser and Abby Robb lead a 1-2 finish for Andover in the 200 yard medley relay. Patty Fitzgerald, Dawn Aikman, Cathy Smith and Anne Herrmann finished a strong second.

Lisa Boudreau, leading from the start, captured the 200 yard freestyle while senior tri-captain Jen Bottomley and Kleschinsky took third and fourth, respectively.

Junior standout, Laurie Lazzaretti, captured the first win of her triple as she easily took the 200 yard individual medley, but it was teammate Sagaser who had the crowd on its feet as she pulled ahead in the final lap of the free style leg to take second place points with a personal best time. Fitzgerald also added points by placing fifth.

Senior tri-captain Tracey Dowd gave the Warriors a second in the 50 yard freestyle while Robb was third and Herrmann was fourth.

Showing continued improvement, Warrior divers, Brenda Busta, Karen Reddington and Amy Driscoll, finished third, fourth and fifth.

The 100 yard butterfly was an exciting race from start to finish with Dowd pulling away to win by two full strokes while Sagaser bid for another second place fell short by only a touch.

Lazzaretti took her second win in the 100 yard freestyle in a race that was a cliff hanger until the last turn when she pulled away from a strong Medford swimmer and brought home the win in her fastest time of the season. Boudreau was third, with Robb a close fourth.

Kleschinsky pulled steadily ahead in the 500 yard freestyle and stayed there to win the event. Bottomley turned in a remarkable job in placing second in her first attempt at the 500. Dianne Jurgen was fifth for Andover.

In the 100 yard backstroke Dana Grogan swam to a strong second place finish, followed closely by teammate Fitzgerald while Herrmann was fifth.

Ann Marie Grogan missed first place in the 100 yard breaststroke by a touch in a race that was head-to-head to the finish and needed a school record by the Medford swimmer to win. Aikman added fourth place points.

The final event of the day, the 400 yard freestyle relay, proved to be the most exciting of the meet. The first two Andover swimmers, Bottomley and Boudreau, replacing the injured Amy Brown, swam strong 100s and were close to their Medford rivals when Dowd took over on the third leg. She pulled even and hung on until the last 25 yards when she took the lead and handed Lazzaretti a two-yard advantage going into the anchor leg. Lazzaretti maintained that lead until the last turn when she left Medford in the gutter and brought the relay home in their fastest time this season.

to remain undefeated.

The following members of the varsity team have met the qualifying time standards for the Northern Sectional Championships to be held at Regis College.

Weston, in November: Jen Bottomley, Lisa Boudreau, Amy Brown, Tracey Dowd, Ann Marie Grogan, Lisa Kleschinsky, Laurie Lazzaretti, Abby Robb and Diane Jurgen.

Girls Varsity Shines

The undefeated girls varsity soccer team went to Georgetown and won 7-0, dominating the entire game.

First quarter action saw Jenna Powell get a corner kick to land dead center and Julie Kinsky deflected the ball into the net with her body. Kathy Neaves set up Torrie Fitzpatrick with a chip pass from the right side of the field and Fitzpatrick began her hat trick for the game.

Neaves took a loose ball in alone and outwitted the goalie for goal number three. She rushed into the zone to pick up a perfect pass from Suzanne Curley and scored her second goal in the second quarter.

What a combination Neaves and Fitzpatrick were as they scored again this time with Fitzpatrick heading in the ball off a Neaves pass. Fitzpatrick got her third goal all alone when she picked her spot in the net and sailed the ball in.

In the fourth quarter JoAnne Martin banged by the goalie as she received a kick from Sally Bickerton from the corner.

The offensive star of the day went to Kathy Neaves and defensive star to Terry Curley and Beth Sullivan.

Warriors Drop Heartbreaker

By Rick Harrison

A tenacious and inspired second half performance by the Andover High football team's defensive unit went unrewarded last Saturday as a gutsy but untimely unsportsmanlike conduct call against the Golden Warriors was instrumental in sending them to a heartbreaking 14-8 defeat against unbeaten Methuen in their Merrimack Valley Conference game at Nicholson Stadium.

It's hard for Andover partisans to be objective about the call, which came after Steve Hebeisen had blocked his second punt of the half and Warriors' defensive end Steve Johnson had fallen on the loose ball at the Methuen one-foot line with just 1:24 remaining and AHS trailing by six points.

Veteran official Ralph Forgione explained, after the game, that he threw the yellow flag because the Andover player with the ball (1) did not give him the football when he requested three different times, and (2) compounded the felony by spiking the ball.

Both teams had apparently been warned about violations at halftime, and the Warriors were hit with a 15-yard penalty for spiking the football after a successful two-point conversion pass following their only touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

Under the circumstances the call was consistent with the way the game had been officiated, although the Andover player in question obviously meant no disrespect to the referee and was simply displaying some normal emotions in response to the situation.

"We've been playing football here a long time, and I just thought it was an unbelievable call," offered Andover assistant Coach Bill Vickers. He was the most adamant in his disagreement on the field, but cooled down quickly after the contest.

"I'm not even sure our player had possession of the football," added Vickers. "I thought the Methuen kid had it."

Head Coach Dick Collins, who left for the hospital when it was over to repair some facial damage incurred when he was accidentally bowled over by three players during a punt return, basically questioned the discretion used by the official to make such a call at that point in the game.

Andover's chances of scoring from the one-foot line for at least a tie and probably a win were excellent.

The penalty put the ball back at the 16-yard line, which makes it a bit tougher, but the Golden Warriors still had time to run four plays and they simply failed to make connections on three passes.

The controversial finish put a scar on an otherwise spectacular defensive exhibition by Methuen, and a showing of what emotion and spirit can lend to a football team by Andover.

The Golden Warriors' offense was stymied the entire game by the bigger Rangers who simply owned the line of scrimmage as Lowell High had two weeks earlier.

Andover's rushing game amounted to minus 35 yards, and its total offense was 40 yards including -10 in the second half.

Quarterback Joe Keefe, forced to scramble on numerous occasions, still came up with a highly-respectable 10-for-18 passing for 75 yards and one touchdown.

Methuen finished with 218 yards, 174 of them on the ground, but managed just 58 yards in the second half.

Despite the statistics Andover came within a whisker of winning, and whatever was said by the coaches or among the players at halftime definitely worked.

Trailing 14-0 and looking for the undertaker when they went to the locker room at halftime, the Warriors came out charging in the final two quarters.

Although still unable to move the ball with much success, Andover climbed back into contention on the strength of its emotional juices.

Players on the field and along the sidelines were all involved, clapping and urging and cheering, and it was almost enough to produce a come-from-behind upset.

Rangers Dominate

Methuen owned the first two periods, as Andover never penetrated inside the Rangers' 47-yard line and ran off just four offensive plays in the second period.

Several illegal procedure penalties plagued Collins' crew, and although Keefe hit 6-of-9 passes, the three longest were to E.J. Perry (17 yards), Steve Johnson (10 yards) and Mike Lucey (9 yards).

Methuen, on the other hand, pulled a page from the Warriors' book and struck with lightning quickness on its first possession.

Starting from its own 29-yard line after a 46-yard punt by Mark Nardone, Coach Larry Klimas' squad moved 71 yards in four plays.

Quarterback Mike O'Connell raced 14 yards on a keeper, sophomore Jay Tardugno added 11 yards on a pitchout, O'Connell gained two more, and then the element of surprise took over as O'Connell fired a 44-yard touchdown pass to senior split end Mike Shipulski.

Shipulski ran a very simple pattern, but was able to sneak five yards behind the Andover secondary and cradle to pass in stride at the 10.

It was one of only three passes thrown by Methuen all afternoon, and the only one completed.

Tardugno was stopped short on the two-point conversion rush, keeping longtime archrival Methuen's lead at 6-0 just 4:36 into the game.

Andover sputtered near midfield on its second possession, and for the second time this season Nardone made a miraculous recovery when he chased a high center snap back to his own 25-yard line and managed to unload a punt that carried to the Methuen 25.

Nardone had two Ranger defenders bearing down on him when he got the kick off between them, and he looked unsuccessfully for a roughing the punter call after being bowled over.

Long Drive

Methuen took control and proceeded to do what it does best, control the football.

The Rangers held possession for just over 10 consecutive minutes, including eight minutes of the second period, driving relentlessly to their final touchdown.

The 75-yard march took 19 penalty-free plays, including three key fourth down conversions in short yardage situations.

The first of these required some nerve, as Methuen elected to go on fourth-and-one at their own 34-yard line. Tardugno gained seven yards on the play.

O'Connell, Jay Tardugno and Barry Tardugno did all the running, alternating carries and getting between four and eight yards a crack.

O'Connell spun for 10 yards to the AHS four on the final crucial fourth down play and Jay eventually knifed across from the one.

O'Connell rushed the conversion for a 14-0 bulge at 7:46 of the second quarter.

Andover appeared to have something started on its lone series of the period, as Keefe hit Perry with a 17-yard pass and Mark Grams with a five yard, but Shipulski picked off Keefe's next toss intended for Perry at the Methuen 22.

Neither team crossed midfield in the third quarter, and both defenses were rock solid before Andover's finally produced the first big break early in the final period.

O'Connell dropped back to punt at his own seven-yard line, but the 6'4" Hebeisen broke through and blocked the kick with Chris Coots falling on the ball at the Methuen eight-yard line.

Keefe tucked the ball under his arm and swept to the left side for three yards, and on the next play he zipped a five-yard scoring strike to Perry who reached back across his body to make a fine catch in traffic.

It was Keefe's fifth TD toss of the season, and the fourth touchdown reception for Perry who leads the Golden Warriors' scoring parade with 26 points.

Andover closed the gap to 14-8 when Keefe pitched the two-point conversion aerial to Mike Lucey who caught the ball inches off the ground.

At this point, with 6:56 still to play, Andover was slapped with its first penalty for spiking the ball.

Methuen retreated into an offensive shell, however, and punted the ball back to the warriors four plays later.

AHS drove from its own 20 to midfield, with the key plays a pair of passes to Perry (17 and 14 yards) and an eight-yarder to Grams who was nailed hard and suffered a pinched nerve in his back.

The march died when Keefe, who was sacked six times in the game, was thrown for a mammoth 15-yard loss on third down by Methuen Co-Capt. Erick Kuchar.

Final Minutes

Nardone punted the ball away with 1:57 to play, but solid defensive plays by Tri-Capt. Mike Sanchez, Tom Argeropoulos and Perry kept Methuen pinned deep.

It forced another Rangers' punt with 1:24 to play, but it also used up three timeouts. Once again O'Connell dropped back to punt at his own 20, but the charging Hebeisen threw his arms in the air and blocked the punt.

The ball bounded all the way back to the Methuen one-foot line, where Steve Johnson and Kuchar wrestled for control.

It was here that the unsportsmanlike conduct penalty was whistled, moving the Warriors back to the 16 and changing the strategy drastically.

Keefe hit Perry with a quick three-yard pass at the 13, the Warriors lined up without a huddle, and a subsequent toss to Perry went incomplete.

On third down, with 0:58 left, Rangers' Co-Capt. Tom LaLiberty chased Keefe back to the 24 and pulled him down for an 11-yard sack.

Andover's final play came with 28 seconds to go, as Keefe lofted a pass for Perry that was knocked away at the goalline by Shipulski.

The loss left Andover at 3-2-0 overall, two full games behind a rampaging Lowell High team that blanked Chelmsford 16-0 last weekend and currently looks unbeatable.

Methuen improved to 4-0-1 with the victory, one which its defense truly earned.

Collins Hurt

Coach Dick Collins miraculously escaped very serious injury on the final play of the third quarter when three players plowed him over on a Mike Lucey punt return and drove him into the Andover bench.

The ambulance was summoned from the opposite side of the field immediately, but after several minutes Collins got to his feet and remained at the game until the conclusion.

His glasses were shattered, he suffered some facial cuts, and there was concern about a possible mild concussion.

A makeshift patch was placed over an injured right eye, but Collins is expected back at his usual post for this Saturday's annual Homecoming game.

Wilmington, a surprising 5-0-0 as a league co-leader with Lowell, will provide the opposition this week.

The Wildcats have beaten Dracut (27-8), Greater-Lawrence Regional (35-15), Central Catholic (6-0), Haverhill (14-6) and last weekend Billerica (30-0).

Wilmington, whose head coach, John Ritchie, has missed the last three games because of health problems, is sparked by Ed Olshaw and quarterback Charlie Athanasia (five TD passes). Olshaw leads the cats in points and yards rushing, he has four interceptions, does the punting and the placekicking.

At halftime of this week's game, which has a 1:30 p.m. kickoff at Lovely Field, each AHS class will parade a float around the field and the Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

JVs

The Andover JVs remained undefeated (4-0-0) last week with a 20-6 victory over Greater-Lawrence Regional.

Quarterback Chris Scarpa and end Charlie Ziegenbein had big days for the Golden Warriors.

Divers Compete

The YMCA Eastern Massachusetts Aquatics Cluster held its first developmental diving meet last Saturday at the Andover-North Andover YMCA.

Hosted by the ANA swimming and diving teams, the meet was conducted under district competition rules and featured divers in four age groups.

Competing for ANA in Class D (9-10 years old), Matt MacVicar placed first in the boys division while Danielle Keeler was third and Erika Sudaiko fourth for the girls.

Coleen Hayes finished second for the girls in Class C (11-12 years old) while Lisa Lanzoni took fourth and Susan Moran eighth. Todd Bilodeau was fourth in the boys competition.

The Morton sisters, Amy and Melissa, were first and second, respectively, in Class B (13-14 years old) while Belinda Wolf placed third in Class A (15-17 years old).

The ANA diving team is coached by Rhonda Bedell, assisted by Paul Koch.

Andover Squirt A's Remain Unbeaten

The Andover Squirt A hockey team continued unbeaten through their first 10 games. In the past two weeks at Wilmington and Danvers, they were 3-0-1 against East Boston, Somerville, Methuen and Lynn.

Andover 13 E. Boston 5

Andover put this game away early as it scored six unanswered goals before two minutes of the second period had elapsed.

Gary Bleszinski scored first on a nice setup by John Melillo just three minutes into the game. Michael DiStefano scored two minutes later for a quick 2-0 score. Defenseman Jimmy Morris added the first of his three-goal hat trick a few moments later to give Andover a 3-0 lead at the end of one period.

Morris scored again just 30 seconds into the second period and when Colin Nix tallied with assists from his linemates, Bryan Smith and Kevin Smith, the rout was on. Eddie Chaisson made the score 6-0 before E. Boston managed its first goal.

Bleszinski scored his second goal with Peter Arthur and Melillo assisting to open up a six-goal lead again. Jonathan Shine's goal from Todd Allard made the score 8-1 shortly after and there was no stopping Andover. Chaisson, DiStefano, Sean Darwin and Jimmy Morris each added goals for Andover in the third period. Outstanding for Andover on defense were Michelle DiStefano and Mike Murnane in goal.

Andover 4 Somerville 3

Andover, playing with great determination, managed to stay undefeated in what proved to be a rough, hard-fought hockey game. Eleven penalties were dealt out between the two teams, most the result of aggressive play by both teams.

Andover scored first against previously unbeaten Somerville as Peter Arthur banged home a rebound off Todd Allard's shot from the point just four minutes into the game. This proved to be the only goal of the first period despite great pressure applied by the line of Colin Nix, Kevin Smith and Bryan Smith.

In the second period Andover built its lead to 3-0 as Eddie Chaisson scored two unanswered goals; the first on a great setup by Allard and Sean Darwin. Somerville refused to quit, however, and managed to close the gap to 3-1 before the period ended.

The third period saw Somerville close the gap to 3-2 with 10 minutes still to play. Andover countered with Chaisson getting his third goal on an outstanding setup by Michael DiStefano.

From here on the defense did it all for Andover. John Melillo and Gary Bleszinski did a marvelous job of killing penalties as Andover was whistled for four penalties of the last seven minutes of the game.

Jimmy Morris and Jonathan Shine continually cleaned house in front of the net as Michelle DiStefano made save after save. Several of the saves were outstanding.

Mike Murnane, who shared the goalkeeping period and a half with for Andover, was equally many classy saves to his outstanding in the first credit.

Soccer PA Sports Highlight

By Sarah E. Rosenfield

After a rigorous preseason week in mid-September, the varsity teams at Phillips Academy emerged ready for the challenges of fall. While play across the scope has been largely successful, the boys' varsity soccer team's performance highlighted the early week as their 3-0-1 record leads fall sports.

The varsity captains, Angelo Iasiello from Fairfield, CT, and Gregory Simon of San Francisco, CA, have provided the squad with a sound foundation at halfback and fullback; other members of the team hail anywhere from North Carolina to Italy. However, the town of Andover is well represented on a team which boasts talent and cohesion. Four day students hold places on the squad and have been recognized for superior contributions to the season so far.

Senior Jeff Curley of Wildwood Road recently returned to the team after suffering a bout of pneumonia. Unable to attend preseason double session practices and the first afternoon meetings of the season, he resumed his Phillips soccer career in the Blue's game against the Brandeis College J.V. team on Oct. 1. In the game against this nationally ranked soccer school, Curley tallied Phillips' second goal off a corner kick to tie the score at 2-2. His return to the squad has been smooth and his play at wing promises to be formidable.

The back injury suffered by Andover resident Adam Wise has led to a change of faces in goal. Sharing the keepers duties with junior Eric Thieringer is Chris Wilson, a sophomore from Andover. Wilson's play in the Brandeis game earned him Most Valuable Player of the Game as he stood firm against the sporadic Brandeis bombardments of Phillips' goal. With 30 minutes left in the game and Brandeis ahead 2-1, a penalty was called in the Blue's defensive zone and Wilson stood alone against the kicker. The shot sailed to the left post, but Wilson was there for a superb save to shut down Brandeis' scoring for the day. As communication between the goal and field defense players improved, Phillips offense went into action with Wilson as a proven strong-hold in the cage.

The two remaining day students on the team are both wings, have scored at least four times this season, have been recognized as athletes of the week and are brothers. Rick and Zack Apgar have sparked the field with their speed and finesse and between them have accounted for nine goals in four games and a comparable number of assists.

Rick, a senior, notched his first two goals in the season opener against Kimball Union Academy as the Blue swept 5-1. His third goal, off an assist from brother Zack, was an unbeatable shot into the right side of the net and the first tally for Phillips against the Brandeis J.V. The Blue met Tabor Academy and ruled victorious 8-2, with Rick scoring twice more.

While Zack's scoring rampage did not begin with the season opener, he was quick to make up for lost time as he tallied a hat trick against Tabor Academy and the second goal in Phillips' defeat of the Boston College J.V. Only a sophomore, the younger Apgar has marked his territory on the soccer squad. If his play thus far is an indication of things to come, the future looks bright for Phillips Academy soccer 1982.

Brooks Holds Opposition Scoreless

The Brooks School Varsity girls soccer team ran its record to 5-1 by recording two victories by a score of 3-0 each. Brooks has not yielded a goal in its last three games and has only yielded five goals in six games.

In a game played in North Andover, Brooks took a half to get untracked, but managed to defeat Concord Academy with two goals early in the third period. Just after the whistle to open the third period, freshman striker, Amy Fournier, was tripped in front of the Concord goal and Brooks was awarded a penalty shot. Andover's Kathy Kimball scored on a free kick. Five minutes later, Erin Sheehan scored on a breakaway. Halfway through the final period, leading scorer, Meredith Kattar, took a pass from Andrea van Beuren and drilled the ball past the outstretched arms of the Concord goalie. As has been the pattern lately, Brooks suffered yet another key injury. During early action, stopper Circe Dunnell was forced to leave the game with a bad ankle injury. Coincidentally, Dunnell, formerly the Brooks goalie, was moved to stopper after Jennifer Smith was forced to the sidelines with an ankle injury. Two days later, junior forward, Phyllis Jackson, twisted an ankle and will be lost for about ten days.

With the injuries mounting almost daily, several substitutes have been pressed into duty and all have responded beautifully.

Saturday brought Thayer Academy of Braintree to Brooks. Although this is the first year Thayer has a team, many players had gained valuable playing experience in several South Shore towns, a hotbed of youth soccer in the state.

Inspired by the sight of four former starters on the bench, Brooks came out fired up and scored two first-period goals. Five minutes into the game right wing Sheehan lofted a beautiful cross to her counterpart on the left, van Beuren, who took little time in putting the ball in the back of the net. Seven minutes later, Brooks scored again—a carbon copy of the first goal. Although Brooks had numerous other chances to score, at halftime the score was 2-0. Six minutes into the third period, Sheehan went to work once again. Taking a feed at midfield, the fleet sophomore from Andover outraced the defense to make the score 3-0.

Helping to key the victory were Andover residents, Christine Philipp and Kathy Kimball. In addition to playing outstanding defense from her left halfback position, Philipp was also responsible for initiating many of Brooks' offensive attacks. Kimball, the sweeper for three periods, was inserted into the goal for the fourth period and turned away the final two Thayer shots. Kimball, is the sister of Andover High School goalkeeper, Dan Kimball.

Brooks expects to be at nearly full strength when they travel to Concord, N.H., to take on defending Independent School League champions, St. Paul's.

Danvers League

Andover 4 - Danvers 2

Andover played a strong game and came away with a win in Danvers this week. First period action was the best for Andover. The line of Andy Weiner, Matt Pothier and Chris McAnally opened the scoring. Peter Donegian sent the puck to McAnally on right wing who carried it into Danvers' zone. He passed the puck between the Danvers' goalie and their defenseman to Weiner who picked it up on left wing and beat the goalie. The lead was short-lived as 30 seconds later Danvers beat goalie James Berberian on a nice 2-on-1 play. Andover continued to press and scored in the middle of a line change. Doug Bleszinski intercepted a pass and hit Robert Stoltz breaking up ice. Stoltz continued into the Danvers' zone, drew the defense and slid a nice pass to Weiner who wasted no time beating their goalie for his second goal. With two minutes left in the period, Stoltz scored Andover's third goal on a nice pass from Bleszinski in a scramble in front of the Danvers' goalie. The period ended with Andover ahead 3-1.

The second period was far more even and both sides had numerous scoring opportunities, but defense and goal tending were tough to crack. Defensemen, Donegian, Tom Tormey, Brent Raftery and Johnny Gilmarin worked effectively to shut down Danvers' offense. What shots that did get through were handled easily by Berberian. The period ended with score remaining 3-1.

Third period action was a carbon copy of the second. Things got tense, however, when Danvers broke the scoring dearth. They executed another 2-on-1 break perfectly making the score 3-2. The line of Pat Breen, Hugh Maginnis and Joey Lyons came out next and their determination to score was evident. They put tremendous pressure on the Danvers' goalie and on the second shot on net by Andover, Danvers got possession and tried to break out of their zone. Breen caught the outlet pass and came in alone, waited for the goalie to make his move and then jammed the puck under him. For the next six minutes Andover's defense and super goaltending kept Danvers' offense under control. The game ended with Andover winning 4-2.

Andover 0 - Cambridge 3

Andover played well and won everything but the game in this loss to Cambridge. The core was not indicative of the play. First period action was the closest between the two teams, but Andover had the territorial edge. The line of Pat Breen, Hugh Maginnis and Joey Lyons put tremendous pressure on Cambridge early, but all attempts were denied by their goalie. James Berberian, Andover's goalie, was also tested by Cambridge's offense. He handled it well and stopped seven out of the eight shots fired at him. A Cambridge defenseman stole an outlet pass and fired from the left circle to beat Berberian with 19 seconds left in the first period. Andover outshot Cambridge 9 to 8, but Cambridge was ahead 1-

Defensively, Andover four shots in the period. played Cambridge very tight and only allowed (Continued on Page 45)

Warrior Girls Drop Two

By Jennifer Jeffries

The Andover High School girls' volleyball team ran into some stiff competition this past week, dropping two out of three league matches and one out-of-league match.

The Golden Warriors first opponent was Dracut. The Middies proved very tough and Andover quickly found themselves down in game one, but fought back for a 16-14 victory. The Blue and Gold may have exhausted their efforts as games two and three belonged to Dracut 15-7 and 15-8 and they took the match home, two games to one.

Andover was led by senior co-captain spiker Sonya McCarter who had nine spikes and two blocks, senior co-captain setter Theresa Duffy with 20 sets, senior setter Amy Conroy with 21 sets, senior spike Marisa Sullivan, 5 spikes, 1 block, senior spiker Jackie Collins, junior spikers Jane Maldon and Lorna Turgiss. Maldon served for 11 points.

Andover spoiled Wilmington's Parents' Night last Thursday as they fought back after a first-game loss 13-15, by digging in and handing the Wildcats losses games two and three by scores of 15-11 and 16-14 in the most exciting match of the season.

In game one Wilmington broke out to an early lead and were one point away from winning at 14-7 when Andover tallied six points to pull within one before the Wildcats put the game away for the 15-13 victory.

The Golden Warriors started slow in game two, but the Wildcats were slower and Andover pulled out a 15-11 win to set the stage for game three.

The entire match came down to the rubber game and it couldn't have been more dramatic. After the first serves for each team were broken, Andover's Sullivan served up seven points to give the Blue and Gold a big lead, but the Wildcats were not ready to give in. The next eight points belonged to Wilmington as they fought back into the match. From there it was a seesaw battle until Andover pulled away to a 14-11 lead, but couldn't put a scrappy Wilmington team away as they dug in once again and tied the game at 14-14. The spirit of the Blue and Gold was not to be denied and they rose to the occasion, stopped Wilmington on their serve and held serve to pick up a point behind Duffy's serve and the match winner behind the serve of Collins.

Also contributing to the victory were McCarter (13 spikes, 2 blocks, Conroy (20 sets), Sullivan (12 spikes, 2 blocks), Maldon (7 spikes, 1 block) and Julie Kiberd (4 spikes) who came off the bench in spots for Collins.

Coach Brian McNally called this match "a true team victory. Everyone pulled together when we really needed it. The girls played with a lot of heart and spirit tonight."

On Saturday Andover travelled across town to take on Phillips Academy in an out-of-league match. As usual the 1982 Phillips Academy volleyball team proved to be a fine one as they handed Andover the loss in straight games by scores of 15-10, 15-2.

Alison Beaumont and Megan Guiney paced PA, while Andover was led by McCarter and setters Duffy and Conroy with support from Maldon, Sullivan, Collins, Turgiss and Lisa Concemi.

The Golden Warriors opened up this week by hosting the always tough Indians of Billerica. Andover never really got started in game one, losing 15-5. Game two started off the same and the Blue and Gold were quickly trailing 11-3, but Andover battled back to 10-12 before Billerica could tally the last three points to win the game and match 15-10.

Andover is now 5-6 in the Merrimack Valley Conference and 7-7 overall. Their next match is Friday at Greater Lawrence and on Monday they host Lawrence at Dunn Gymnasium. Junior varsity game begins at 3:30, followed by the varsity.

Completes Training

Navy Airman Apprentice Paul L. Armstrong, son of April O. Armstrong, 11 Beech Circle, Andover, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Wayne Matthew Ota will change his name to: Wayne Matthew Kanzaki.

JV Team Wins Four Matches

The Andover junior varsity volleyball team raised its record to 6-5 in the Merrimack Valley conference and 9-5 overall by winning their last four matches.

The Golden Warriors downed Dracut 15-8, 12-15 and 15-4. Sophomore Mandy Duggan had four spikes, one big dig and served for five points. Tuo Nowan served well, Stacey Phillips and Aimee Damon set well and Carolyn Tiberii, Patty Foley and Robin Savoy turned in fine performances.

Andover's next opponent was Wilmington and the Blue and Gold won in impressive fashion 4-15, 15-6 and 16-14. All 12 players saw action as they were led by Duggan who served eight straight points in game two and 13 points overall along with seven spikes. Noiwan and Tiberii also played well.

Last Saturday Andover defeated their cross-town private school counterparts by scores of 8-15, 15-3 and 15-8. Setter Lauren Hendry served for 14 straight points in game two wrapping up the win after Duggan served for the first point. Duggan also led the offensive attack with five spikes. Tina Sutton tallied spikes also. Duggan, Phillips and Hendry led the defensive attack with some key digs and saves. Noiwan also turned in a fine performance.

On Monday Andover dropped Billerica, handing them their third loss of the season, by scores of 15-5, 1-15, 15-12, highlighted by a very exciting third game. Playing well were Noiwan, Hendry, Phillips, Tiberii, Duggan, Sutton, Sarah Poor, Lori Cocchia-ro, Patty Foley, Betsy Frost, Michelle Shwetz and Savoy, who had some clutch serves and hits in the third game.

Andover's success can be contributed to a well-balanced team attack and the fine coaching of Arthur Iworsley.

On Friday Andover travels to Greater Lawrence and hosts Lawrence at Dunn Gymnasium on Monday at 3:30. All are welcome.

Tormey, Brent Raftery and Johnny Gilmartin kept beating Cambridge's offense to the puck. However, Cambridge got a break with five minutes left when the puck broke behind Andover's defense. A Cambridge defenseman got it and broke in on the right side. He fired a well-placed shot to the far corner and put Cambridge ahead 2-0. Andover continued the pressure offensively, but could not get the puck by a hot Cambridge goalie. Andover outshot Cambridge 7 to 4, but still were behind 2-0.

The third period was a replay of the second. Andover continued to keep the pressure on. Joey Lyons was set up by Maginnis in front of Cambridge's goalie and fired a hard, rising shot labeled for the upper right corner of the net. Cambridge's goalie made a super glove save to rob Lyons of what looked like a sure goal. Again, with five minutes left, Cambridge got its third unsisted goal when a defenseman who was caught deep in Andover's zone got an outlet pass, swung around in front of Andover's goal and scored on a nice, hard, high shot. Andover had several opportunities right up to the last few seconds of the period, but were unable to capitalize on them. While putting on intense pressure in Cambridge's zone, David Sopp got the puck to Doug Bleszinski behind the net on the right side. Bleszinski swung behind the net as Stoltz came into the slot and slid the puck out front and the diving goalie just tipped to 16 for the game. While territorial play favored deny Andover once again. Andover, the win went to Cambridge 3-0. Andover again outshot Cambridge 7 to 4 and 23

Art Exhibit

The American Mutual Insurance Companies presents an invitational exhibit of works by 12 contemporary Rockport artists through Oct. 29 at their home office in Wakefield.

Assembled under the auspices of the Rockport Chamber of Commerce Arts Committee, the exhibit presents a small sampling of the range and quality of art work being created in Rockport today.

"It is our hope that with this initial group exhibition," notes filmmaker-photographer David Watts, Jr., chairman of the committee, "To make more people aware that quality fine art is still a major facet of Rockport."

Cronin says

Our Senior Citizens have contributed more than any other group to our nation. They have "given" the most, the longest. They have paid their dues, especially in taxes.

Their needs must now be met. They should not be taxed out of decent housing. They should be certain of pensions and retirement plans, meals, continued fuel assistance and efficient transportation.

These are rights our Senior Citizens have already paid for...rights they have earned.

Kimberley Cronin proposes an Elderly Advisory Board, comprised of Senior Citizens from the district who would meet regularly with elected officials to discuss problems facing the elderly. The purpose of the board is to give Senior Citizens a chance to be a part of the decision-making on problems affecting them.

Cronin also proposes a Senior Citizen's Staff Assistant, someone who will monitor legislation dealing with Senior Citizens and represent the elderly both at the State House and in the district.

removing gravel — and therefore did not require notice to abutters.

At that point in the hearing, Selectman Gerald Silverman said angrily that he was "getting a little upset tonight. I'm hearing conflicting stories." Silverman suggested that the developer pay for an inspector to stay on site "eight hours a day" for the town because "we can't be up there. There's a lot of problems going on here."

During at least ten trips to the development during the summer, he saw work done only within one roadway, Silverman added.

Selectman Donn Byrne also aimed some harsh words at the developer. "You're nickel and diming," he said. "Let's have a little consideration for these people. Frankly, I'm getting a little tired of hearing about gravel."

Byrne also instructed the town manager to order increased police patrols in the area, to watch for speeding trucks.

Both Byrne and Chairman Norma Gammon voted against delaying the hearing. Dalton, Silverman and Edward Harris voted to continue the hearing, with the town manager working on a new set of conditions for the permit in cooperation with both the developer and the neighbors.

The hearing opened with some confusion over whether Cormier actually needs the gravel removal permit or not. Marden's clients brought the developer into Superior Court this summer, seeking an injunction against further work at the site because Cormier had allegedly failed to comply with the terms of the original permit.

According to Town Counsel Alfred Daniels, the court ruled that under the town's gravel removal bylaw, if Cormier complies with the plans approved by the Planning Board, "he may not need a general permit from the selectmen."

The town manager said he still wanted to proceed with the permit process to give the town greater control over the project, and the developer agreed.

Marden, however, said that the court had termed the town bylaw "ambiguous", and decided only not to issue an injunction "at this time," implying that a permit was still required.

A philosophical approach to the Andover Country Club development may be the only choice left to neighbors now, James McCarron of Sherbourne Street suggested.

Ciro's Bakery—A Tradition Of Freshly Baked Goods

It all started 85 years ago when
settled in the North End of Boston, opening one of its first bakeries. Baking was learned as an art and Ciro's grandson, Jim Giordano, now brings that special tradition to Andover.

Ciro's, Shawsheen Plaza, Andover, offers the area's finest European pastries, American pastries, breads, rolls, doughnuts, pies and cakes. They specialize in pure whipped cream products. Everything is made fresh on the premises by owner
Jim Giordano. No preservatives or artificial additives are added to any item—just wholesome, fresh ingredients.

Ciro's distinguishes itself from other bakeries because their wide variety of Italian pastries and American pastries are both made exceptionally well.

Another specialty offered at Ciro's is the freshly baked pizza, quiche and calzones available for take-out and ready by noon time each day. Quiches are lorraine, spinach and mushroom; calzones are filled with fresh ham, pepperoni and cheese or spinach;
and any pizza combinations can be made to order. Ciro's also sells frozen pizza dough. Come in and try their croissants—they're great!

Fresh hot coffee is always available at Ciro's so when you stop in for their terrific doughnuts each morning remember that you don't have to make that second stop before reaching work. Or how about a fresh can-noli? Ciro's cannolis are filled to order.

With the holidays just around the corner, visit Ciro's and treat your family and guests to this area's finest pastries. Special for your little ghosts and goblins are freshly baked Halloween goodies, available now. Hours are: Tuesday through Saturday, 7:30-8:00;
and Sunday, 7:30-2:00. Telephone 475-1614.

Moose-a-laneous, Inc.—Unique & Distinctive Gifts

Anita Karas and Joyce Witover are co-owners of the stationary and gift shop, Moose-a-laneous, a two-story store with two diverse looks. The downstairs of the Main Street store is a whimsical, fun place to shop. The owners refer to it as "a touch of Fanueil Hall brought to Andover." Upstairs, for the more serious-minded shopper, one will find a more contemporary, casual look, while still retaining gifts and decorative accessories.

A full assortment of candles and candle accessories, barware, lamps, clocks and sculptures are only a few of the items sold upstairs, all at a continuous 10 percent discount off of the marked price. Moderately priced, but elegant, oven-to-table cookware, teak serving pieces, Louisville Stoneware The New Country

Look by Andrea West are great shower presents, but will also enhance your own kitchen. Kosta Boda, Ittala and Waterford crystal, hand-painted Nouveau glassware by Rueven, Fitz & Floyd ceramic accessories, Metlox Colorstax China—perfect gift items all giftwrapped with a personalized touch.

"Downstairs you'll find our dream come true," says Anita. There is a complete line of everyday and seasonal cards, stationary by the pound, stickers by the foot, wrapping paper by the yard, and everything personalized imaginable—ribbons, napkins, coasters, pencils, gift tags, calling cards, wine bags, party bags and anything else you may be able to think of. Among the various lines of stationary Moose-a-laneous carries is Amie Karen,

Cancer Fund for Children. All proceeds made from this line are donated to the American Cancer Society. An unusual assortment of stuffed animals, including frogs, E.T. and LeMutt & Fifi, a huge array of rubber stamps and personalized tin pails and soft sculptures are only a sample of the many unique items available.

Shoppers of any age will receive personalized attention in gift selection on both floors. Moose-a-laneous offers UPS service to ship your gifts anywhere in the country. The owners will guarantee a good time if you come in to shop at Moose-a-laneous, with the best browsing and shopping opportunities in Andover. Moose-a-laneous, 11 Main Street in Andover is open Monday-Saturday, 9:30-5:30. 470-6883 and 475-1822

J. Louis LaBrecque of Lawrence is chairman of the Friend of the Marists. William DiIanni of Lexington is vice chairman, Jane McLaughlin of Bedford is treasurer. Members of the general committee are Mr. and Mrs. William Dunphy of West Roxbury, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dionne of Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Soucy of Methuen, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Mansemino of Wareham, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cucchiara of Chestnut Hill and Miss Helen Comeau of Andover.

INFLATION AND THE HOMEOWNER

Hamburger, up 63%. Fresh milk, up 53%. Gas and electricity, up 70%. Postal service, up 75%. Toothpaste, up 31%. Physicians' fees, up 69%. And men's haircuts, up 53%.

Most families don't need the Consumer Price Index to remind them of the soaring increases in the cost of living since 1967.

Inflation isn't all bad, however. True, prices of everyday commodities and services have risen dramatically. But those people who have invested wisely will find the value of their investments also have grown.

One of the most common investments - though most people don't think of it that way - is the family home. As an investment, housing has more than kept pace with inflation. While the overall Consumer Price Index "market basket" of goods and services in 1975 averaged about 61 percent higher than the 1967 basket, increases in residential construction costs substantially exceeded that rate of growth - 83%. That's why real estate investment is considered the best inflation hedge of all.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pumphrey Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

OPEN SUNDAYS

Shoplifting Seminar Scheduled

"Shoplifting is a major concern of every retailer and law enforcement official in the Commonwealth, a problem that costs consumers money every day," said Senator Patricia McGovern, (D-2nd Essex and Middlesex) as she announced the presentation of four three-hour seminars in her district dealing with the new Retail Theft Law.

The programs were developed in conjunction with the Massachusetts Criminal Justice Training Council and are designed to explain the new shoplifting statute and its implementation, as well as low-cost methods for retailers to guard against shoplifters.

"The training sessions are important to provide law enforcement officials an opportunity to review the legal changes created by the new statute," said McGovern. "It is also important to offer local merchants an opportunity to become familiar with the law to insure maximum protection against crime."

Available to all police personnel and retail merchants, the program will be offered on Wednesday, Oct. 27, at 9 a.m. at the Andover Jade Restaurant.

"I am grateful for the cooperation of the Criminal Justice Training Council, the Chamber of Commerce, law enforcement officials and retailers, who have contributed to this effort," said McGovern.

Interested persons may contact the Chamber of Commerce for further information.

The popular program, "Authors on Stage," presents its fall series on Monday, Nov. 1, at Jewett Auditorium, Wellesley College. The lectures are sponsored by the Boston Wellesley College Club and will be moderated by Robert Hale, formerly of Hathaway House Bookstore.

Cider Day

The second old-fashioned Cider Day was held on Saturday, Oct. 2, at the Cox Reservation, headquarters for the Essex County Greenbelt Association. Two hundred members and friends gathered to pick from the Cox Reservation orchard and help press their own cider to drink and take home.

The vintage orchard had some of its trees identified and tagged for the occasion, although it could take as much as three years to complete the project. Identification was made by horticultural historian Mrs. A.W. Smith of Ipswich.

Andover Municipal Guide

Supplement to:

Andover Townsman

October 21, 1982

Putting it in simplest terms, the town of Andover is a $29 million corporation with approximately 27,000 stockholders entitled to the services provided.

To operate such a corporation requires the services of administrators, departments heads, boards and committees, some elected, some appointed, but all subject to the desires of the public.

This special section of the TOWNSMAN is a listing of some of the more frequently called service agencies of the town with their location and telephonenumber applicable.

The general government operations of Andover, directed by the town manager, who is supervised by the selectmen, is broken down into categories which include administration and finance, public works, community services and community development and planning. This represents a little less than half of the total costs of municipal operation, with the school department representing the remainder.

"A Classy Little Restaurant in a Classy Little Town"

There isn't anything in this unique restaurant that doesn't display a feeling of "class." The atmosphere is small, quaint, soft lights and so-o-o elegant. The cuisine is continental and every dish is prepared with a classical flare. Backstreet is a unique cocktail lounge named for the theatrical ambience that exudes. A blazing fireplace romantically accented by a classical pianist playing your favorite Broadway cabaret tunes.

Sign of the Times in our town.

It's not just the typical yard sign you find in the front of houses for sale. This sign tells you that the owners of the property chose the real estate broker whose knowledge of your local market has resulted in an unmatched record of bringing buyers and sellers together.

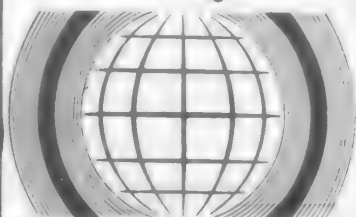

The sign means that the buyer and seller will be given the best advantage against the highest standards of the industry. It means the seller can count on the most up-to-date marketing techniques.

To both buyer and seller it means a saving of time, energy, and frustration.

If you're thinking of buying or selling, you know it's of more advantage to put your sign with us. Please give us a call.

Ronald Curran

Comprehensive Planning Consultant Ronald Curran

Hired in July as a temporary consultant to help coordinate the revision of the town's master plan, Curran is responsible for supervising staff involvement in the planning process; coordinating the participation of town boards, commissions and committees; and supervising any other consultants who may be hired along the way to work on the plan.

And one of his most important tasks will be to help drum up interest in the plan among townspeople, drawing citizens into the planning process. Curran hopes to have residents join task forces that will examine specific aspects of the plan.

Andover's master plan, which aims to offer some direction for the town's future in all planning matters, was last revised in 1965. This year, annual town meeting voted to appropriate $50,000 to bring that plan up to date.

The consultant has been working closely with the Planning Board to determine what form the revised plan will take. Recently it was decided that the plan will zero in on the major issues of land use; housing; business and industrial development; public health and safety; school and community services; transportation and communication; and capital improvement, redevelopment and reuse.

Town officials hope to see the update completed by next spring.

...PLANNING

Jerry S. Greer

Planning Board

Jerry S. Greer, chairman; Paul Curley, Margaret M. Bradshaw, Andrew W. Girdwood, Jr., George Moran.

Appointive. The general powers and duties of the Planning Board are derived from state legislation and fall into three distinct areas of responsibility: planning, zoning and subdivision control. The board is directed to anticipate the town's needs in accordance with a master plan, which should be periodically updated so that plans for the town's orderly growth and development may be recommended and implemented.

The board reviews the zoning bylaw and makes recommendations for changes to town meeting. It must hold a public hearing and report to town meeting its opinion on any warrant article dealing with zoning or land use. Town bylaws require planning board reports on any matters dealing with town land, public ways and public buildings.

The planning board also administers the subdivision control law through rules and regulations it adopts for this purpose. These involve lay-out and construction of road drains and utilities as well as placement of houses on regulation lots.

The board is located at 11 Essex St., 475-7820.

A SAAB 900 MAY NOT BE QUITE AS IMPRESSIVE
AS A SAAB TURBO.
BUT IT SURE BEATS A CHEVY.

Owning a Saab Turbo is a pretty good sign that you've arrived.

But that doesn't mean you have to do without a Saab while you're getting there.

Because there's also the Saab 900, a car that's about as close to our turbo as they come. For instance, you get the same front-wheel drive, four-wheel disc brakes and unit-body construction. And the 900's fuel-injected engine, says Road and Track, "makes some of the nicest sounds we've heard from a 4-banger—whooshing sounds that make you believe there's a turbo running somewhere."

So before you resign yourself to a Sunbird or an Impala, test drive the 900.

And sample a little of the good things to come.
